3 AMERICAN SHIPS SEIZED ON YANGTZE

SCORE one more for the Federal Reserve system! Whole flocks of small banks have been closing in the corn belt; a lot last month in Iowa, and four the other day in Kansas. Most of them, presumably, were not even members of the Federal Reserve system. But the very existence of that stabilizer has been the cause of the disturbance. The banks in question had long been "frozen," and might justifiably have been closed long ago.

They had been kept going, with many others in their condition, in the hope that the delay might lessen the number of failures, and minimize the harm of the remainder. This, apparently, has happened. But the main thing that has happened is that nothing else has happened. The one region in America which has not shared the general prosperity has gone through the necessary liquidation, without the evil spreading elsewhere.

The Federal Reserve System has steered us through two emergencies, the first greater than the other, designed to meet, and the second mostly beyond its direct control. It is a phenomenally good record.

D. R. SZE, Chinese Minister, returns from Turkey greatly impressed with the progress of that country under the new treaties by which the Western powers renounce extraterritoriality and other special privileges, and uses this experience as an argument for similar treatment of China.

Now argument would be good, if it were not for the facts. The powers recognized the rights of the Turkish nation, but only when there was a Turkish government to exercise those rights. The Chinese nation, abstractly, has indubitably the same rights. But concretely, these rights can be transferred only to a Chinese government. We have no means of dealing with the Chinese nation except through a Chinese government. Notoriously, there is no such government now, which either governs or represents China, or is capable of exercising, for the Chinese nation, any of the rights of that nation. We do not interfere with their non-existence, as to Chinese, but we retain, for the moment, the existing institutions which exercise them, for our nationals and our commerce.

TO CONCEDE the right to establish courts in place of the present consular and mixed courts, to fix and collect tariffs, and the rest, to the present ostensible government in Peking would be a mere meaningless gesture. It could not even circulate the paper decrees assuming these powers, much less set up actual institutions to exercise them. To concede it, on the other hand, to the only actual governing powers, the rival provincial war lords, would be, not to recognize, but precisely to ignore, the Chinese nation, which they do not pretend to represent, and are not ruling.

China has the right to make its own laws, but we can not deal with any such laws until they exist; until there is some one to make, enforce and interpret them. It has the right to set up its own courts, but we cannot go into those courts until they are there, and until they are courts. It is entitled to denounce treaties and negotiate new ones, but only when there is a government to do so.

THE time for that may come soon in China. The Canton rebels may win the civil war. They are already in possession of more than half of China and, with their Manchurian allies, are pressing in on Peking from both sides. If they capture all of China, and are then able to hold themselves together, and to suppress counter-revolution, they will be the government of China. Then they will be entitled to deal with as such, as the realities of the new, suspended sovereign rights of the Chinese nation.

WHEN that time comes, as it may soon, there will be a new test of American mentality. On the Chinese side, we are accustomed to favoring China. But we are also accustomed to sparing nothing tainted with even the name of Bolshevism. These Cantonese are all Bolshevik; still less are they Communists. But they are pro-Russian, which, to our confused thoughts, is often the same thing. They have got their leaders, their arms, and some of their money from Russian sources, and they are engaged in Russian national intrigue, as against Britain or Japan. As Russian, we might deal with that. As Bolshevik, we should associate with nothing. Will we be able to make the distinction?

Also, if this prospective new government of China is to be a useful, and not a dangerous thing in the world, there must be united policy and action on the part of the non-Russian western powers, and we must be in that. We always have been in before. China, as the protection of China. But in our present isolationist mood, are we capable of uniting with anybody, on anything, or having any foreign policy whatever?

Not if we continue to let our reactionaries scare us with bugaboos.

Commander Yankee Warship Demands Steamers Be Released Immediately

BIG BATTLE EXPECTED

Missionaries Are Warned To Evacuate Province in Control of Militarists

(By United Press)
LONDON, Dec. 16.—Guns of the American gunboat El Cano were trained today on troops of General Yangsen, entrenched in the town of Shasi, on the Yangtze river, the Manchester Guardian's Shanghai correspondent reported.

Immediate release of three American river steamers, seized yesterday by the militarist leader, Yangsen, was demanded in an ultimatum from the commander of the American gunboat.

Two British gunboats, the Crick and Cockchafer, were standing alongside the American gunboat, in support of the United States' ultimatum.

The American consul at Chungking has warned American missionaries to evacuate the province of Szechwan, in control of the militarist leader, Yangsen, because of the growing anti-foreign feelings, according to a dispatch from the Shanghai correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

GREEN DESCRIBED AS MENTAL WRECK

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—Col. Ned M. Green was, in appearance, a "mental and physical wreck," when questioned by Alf Otfield, coast chief of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue department, just prior to his suspension as prohibition administrator for northern California and Nevada, it was testified today by Maj. Frank Darling, former aide to Green.

Darling with a principal defense witness at today's session before Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure, in whose court Green is on trial for alleged embezzlement of government liquor.

"Green at that time seemed almost unconscious of what he was saying," Darling continued.

Green resumed the stand and was taken over all subjects touched in his purported confession to Otfield by Chief Defense Counsel Theodore Roche. The testimony was largely a duplication of that given previously.

SMITH NAMED U. S. SENATOR FROM ILLINOIS

Fight to Be Made Against Seating of Appointee in Upper House

(By United Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 16.—Gov. Len Small, shortly after 9 a. m., today, signed the appointment of Col. Frank L. Smith to succeed the late Senator William B. McKinley, in the senate.

The governor departed for Kankakee, his home, after signing the appointment.

Smith, storm center of a senatorial campaign slush fund investigation committee and senator-elect, was hastened to fill the vacancy left by the death of Senator McKinley.

The appointment was taken here as having been directly designed to bring to a head the smoldering fight in the senate, which it is certain will flame when Smith attempts to take his seat.

The senate controversy is the result of disclosures brought about by a senatorial investigation committee, which obtained testimony that Smith had accepted more than $300,000 of his primary campaign fund from public utility interests.

In view of the fact that Smith at that time was chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, it was pointed out that he was a virtual dictator over the utility interests.

The announcement of Smith's appointment followed directly on the heels of a telephone call which Smith received from Senator James Watson, of Indiana, yesterday, during which Smith was urged not to accept the unexpired term.

It was taken for granted that Watson spoke for the Republican majority in the senate.

Other Cinderella Girl Brings Suit

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—"Daddy" Browning's other Cinderella girl wants $500,000 for the "mental anguish" of being adopted by the millionaire real estate man.

Edward W. Browning, who already is paying $300 a week to his third Cinderella girl and present wife, the former Frances "Peaches" Heenan, pending trial of their joint suits for separation, conferred with his busy legal staff today about the newest suit.

Mary Louise Spas, adopted by Browning nearly two years ago, has served notice of a suit for $500,000 damages, charging assault, threats, coercion and mental anguish.

FIGHT WILL BE MADE ON SEATING OF SMITH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—A fight will be made to prevent Frank L. Smith, Republican, Illinois, from taking the seat in the senate, to which he was appointed by Gov. Len Small. Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, announced today he would introduce a resolution denying Smith the right to receive the qualifying oath because of excessive primary campaign expenditures and asking the Reed elections investigating committee to advise the senate, "at the earliest convenient date, such recommendations as may seem warranted."

FARMER SHOTS U. S. DRY AGENT

MANTECA, Calif., Dec. 16.—Shot through the abdomen by John P. Berg, turkey farmer, living near here, C. T. Holt, a federal prohibition officer from San Francisco, was in the Manteca hospital today, painfully, but not seriously injured.

The shooting occurred late last night, when Holt and two other officers were searching the Berg premises for illicit liquor. The farmer heard them outside, and shot when, he said, Holt refused to halt his approach on the house.

Berg surrendered at the county jail at Stockton and was being held for investigation.

Later search of his house revealed no trace of bootlegging activities, it was said.

Officialdom At Bedside Of Emperor

(By United Press)
HAYAMA, Japan, Dec. 16.—Practically all the high officialdom of Japan today was gathered here, where Emperor Yoshihito, direct descendant of the sun goddess, according to Japanese tradition, was experiencing the crisis of his pneumonic illness.

The battleship Yamashiro arrived off Yama.

Campor injections were resorted to today to revive the strength of the emperor.

An extraordinary session of the cabinet was called after issuance of a bulletin on the condition of the emperor.

The prince regent was at his bedside. The emperor's pulse was 124 and his temperature 37 centigrade.

CONFERENCE ON DAM DEADLOCKED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—The price which California must pay to Nevada and Arizona for power generated at the proposed dam at Boulder canyon was the chief bone of contention when Colorado river commissioners of the three states resumed sessions here today.

The conference, designed to effect a tri-part agreement for division of the water and power to be developed at Boulder dam, appeared in hopeless deadlock.

Arizona is demanding a charge of 5 mills a kilowatt hour for all power developed at the dam, as contrasted with the $1 per horsepower for each unit of power which California has offered to Nevada and Arizona.

The $1 tax would give Nevada and Arizona a half million dollars annual revenue each, whereas the 5-mill tax would net each state several millions.

The commissioners were hopeful that a compromise might be arranged.

If Arizona's demands are not satisfied, and the present parley ends in failure, the fate of the Swinging John bill will hang in the balance.

The Arizona delegates have declared they will go to court to prevent the Boulder dam measure, if passed by congress, from taking effect, unless their asserted rights are protected. This probably would make the measure inoperative for years until a court decision is rendered.

Salary of Landis Fixed at $65,000

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Judge Kenneth Mountain Landis today was re-elected czar of baseball for a seven-year term at a salary of $65,000 a year—an increase of $15,000 over the figures fixed when he was appointed to clear the major leagues of the "Black Sox" scandal, in 1919.

DE LA HUERTA IS READY TO LEAD REVOLT

Former Provisional President Plans to Enter Mexico and Direct Uprising

WAR AGAINST CALLES

Denies Statement Made by Obregon That He Inspired Indian Outbreak

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—The U. S. government will not move against Adolfo de la Huerta, who announced today that he was preparing to enter Mexico to lead an army against the Calles regime, according to Lucien C. Wheeler, chief investigator of the department of justice here.

"As long as de la Huerta does not violate the American neutrality act by organizing an armed expedition to cross the border and march against the reigning government, we will not molest him," Wheeler said.

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Adolfo de la Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, plans to enter his native land soon and direct the current rebellion against the Calles administration, he told the United Press today.

"I go maybe one week—maybe two weeks—but when the time is ripe, and they call me, I will cross the border. I expect to be called any day now."

De la Huerta, at the same time, denied statements made here yesterday by Gen. Alvaro Obregon, also a former president of Mexico, that de la Huerta had inspired the Yaqui Indian uprising in Sonora, Mexico. He also denied the charges of Obregon that de la Huerta plotted the Yaqui attack upon a passenger train at Yuma, Sonora, some time ago, with the intention of killing Obregon.

Gives Reason for Uprising

"The uprising against the Calles regime was started by the Yaqui Indians because Obregon and President Calles were stealing their lands," de la Huerta said. "I have directed the Yaquis to kill Obregon, but advised them to carry on their warfare in a civilized manner."

"They have sent envoys to me with reports of the land grabs. The Yaqui chieftains and leaders of the other revolutionary forces, now active in nearly every province in Mexico, have implored me to join them and direct the overthrow of the Calles government."

"This I have decided to do."

Obregon returned to Los Angeles yesterday from the Sonora country, where he has been leading an attack of Mexican federal troops against the Yaquis. De la Huerta returned at the same time from Nogales, Ariz., near the Mexican border, where he has been receiving reports of the fighting between the federal and rebel armies.

Charges Deception of Yaquis

De la Huerta charged that the Yaqui insurrectionists had been deceived by Obregon and Calles with false reports of his death shortly after the present revolt got under way. "The Yaquis also were told at one time that I was held prisoner by Gen. Guadalupe Sanchez and other commanders and that Obregon and Calles were trying to free me," de la Huerta continued.

"To sustain this series of lies, the Yaqui tribe was completely surrounded by spies."

"In the same false manner, Calles and Obregon proceeded with foreign governments, carrying false documents in order to obtain the foreign aid with which they are combating efforts of the Mexican people to rise and shake off the Bolshevik yoke of the tyrants who have usurped control of the government in Mexico."

Pari-Mutuel Sponsor Seeks Repeal

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 16.—Declaring that Utah had been unfortunate in getting state racing commissions which made little or no attempt to uphold high standards in operation of the law, Representative Charles Reed, father of the Utah race track betting law of two years ago, has informed the State Educational association that he intends to introduce a bill at the coming session to repeal the law, which he fostered two years ago, and end pari-mutuel betting on horse races in this state.

CLAIMS JESSE SMITH VICTIM OF MURDERER

Heflin from Alabama in Startling Statement On Senate Floor

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—In the course of a senate speech flaying the acquittal of former Secretary of Interior Fall and E. L. Doheny of all conspiracy charges, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, started his listeners this afternoon by claiming that Jesse Smith, confidential assistant and friend of former Attorney General Daugherty, had been murdered in Daugherty's apartment.

While a verdict of suicide was reached on Smith, Heflin credited to "a reliable man," the information that Smith had said before his death, "It's all up with me."

"This man," Heflin continued, "who said he would tell all about bootleggers, this man who threatened to make a clean breast of everything, was found shot in Daugherty's apartment, two days later. They said he committed suicide, but he was shot behind the ear and there were no powder stains on him."

Heflin said the Fall-Doheny acquittal was "fanciful" and criticized the failure to convict Daugherty in the recent Daugherty-Miller conspiracy trial at New York.

"A political revolution," he suggested, might follow these cases. He angrily denounced the Frank L. Smith senatorial appointment in Illinois and added, "God help the nation!"

LARGER NAVY IS TO BE DEMANDED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Indication that the house naval committee would fight to place the navy on a par with the fleets of Great Britain and Japan was given today by Chairman Butler, Pennsylvania, after a lengthy secret committee session.

Butler reported to the committee on his visit yesterday to President Coolidge and said later there was no disagreement between the president and the committee.

Before the committee announces the plans, Butler indicated President Coolidge would have to be consulted again.

The annual naval appropriation bill is slated to be reported to the house tomorrow by the appropriations committee, but it will not be called up until after the Christmas holidays.

Former Ensign to Be Freed from Pen

SAN QUENTIN, Dec. 16.—George D. Birdsall, 23, former ensign in the U. S. navy, sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment for conduct unbecoming to an officer and a gentleman, today was ordered released from San Quentin prison, on order of the naval board of clemency. Birdsall has served about five years of his sentence at San Quentin, having been "fanned out" to that institution from Alcatraz prison.

District Attorney, Deputy Convicted

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 16.—District Attorney Chester C. Kempley and his chief deputy, C. Gray Selleck, were found guilty by a jury today of accepting a $40,000 bribe to suppress evidence in a murder trial they prosecuted in 1925. The jury deliberated from 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon until noon today.

BOTH DEFENDANTS BURST IN TEARS AFTER VERDICT OF 'NOT GUILTY' IS READ

Rich Oil Man and ex-Cabinet Member Freed of Charges of Conspiracy to Defraud Government

TWO DISSENTING JURORS YIELD

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Albert B. Fall and E. L. Doheny were acquitted today of conspiracy to defraud the government. The youthful jury, which received the case at 2:48 p. m. Wednesday, returned its verdict at 10:07 o'clock, today.

Both Fall, the white-haired 65-year-old secretary of the interior under President Harding, and Doheny, 70-year-old oil multi-millionaire, were in the courtroom when the verdict was read. Both had borne up well under the stress of the trial, but the strain of the long wait while the jury deliberated told on them. The courtroom broke into a hubbub as the score of attorneys and friends crowded about to congratulate the men who were exonerated of the grave charges.

Owen J. Roberts, prosecution chief said:

"We have to be satisfied with the verdict. The case was fairly submitted to 12 men. We will now proceed to push the other cases."

A ballot of the jury, taken half an hour before the verdict, was announced showed it to be 10 to 2 in favor of "not guilty."

At 9:30, the two dissenters gave in to the majority and the jurymen marched into the court to give their verdict.

The first vote of the jury, taken shortly after the case was submitted, at 2:48 p. m. yesterday, was 6 to 6.

Justice Hoehling ordered the jurors and courtroom to stand up. In measured tones, he asked:

"Have you reached a verdict?"

"We have,"

Justice Hoehling admonished silence upon the courtroom and cautioned against a disturbance. Then he asked for a verdict.

"Not guilty as to the defendant, Edward L. Doheny."

"Not guilty—"

Here the women members of the Fall and Doheny families burst into hysterical laughter and the courtroom lost the dignity that has characterized it for the 19 days of the trial.

"—as to the defendant, Albert B. Fall," Briggs concluded.

Hubbub broke out again and Justice Hoehling's "let word of thanks to the jury" could hardly be heard. Fall and Doheny were congratulated by nearly everyone in the courtroom. Both the men were crying a few minutes after the verdict, although they held their composure up to that moment. Roberts met Frank J. Hogan, chief defense counsel, in the courtroom and grasped his hand.

CONSPIRACY TRIAL RESULT OF SENATE'S OIL INQUIRY

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The trial of E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, and Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government, was the first criminal trial resulting from the revelations of the famous senate oil investigation of 1923-24, engineered by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, Montana. Indictment was voted 18 months ago, along with a similar one charging Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, in the similar Teapot Dome conspiracy case, Friday.

His presence and that of Sinclair is required for a scheduled arraignment Friday, but the argument and decision and a possible appeal may prevent their being brought to trial in January, as had been hoped by government counsel.

Roberts said today the verdict will not result in dismissal of any of the four other criminal cases.

Sinclair will arrive here today or tonight from New York, his attorneys said.

PAIR CRYING AND LAUGHING

Doheny and Fall, crying and laughing together, walked to the front of the white stone courthouse and posed for their pictures.

Doheny wore a new white scarf as a sling for his infected arm, which was operated on twice during the trial.

Doheny and his family are leaving immediately for New York, but Fall must remain here for argument of a motion to quash the indictment against himself and Harry F. Sinclair, in the similar Teapot Dome conspiracy case, Friday.

GIRL'S PARENTS AWAIT ARREST OF SON-IN-LAW

(By United Press)

FRESNO, Dec. 16.—Still grief-stricken by the death of their daughter, Mrs. Cornelia Butties Murphy, in Long Beach, last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Butties prayed today for the success of the search for their son-in-law, L. D. Murphy, who has been charged with the murder of his bride of three weeks.

Mrs. Murphy's death was caused by injuries, which, she charged in a dying statement, were inflicted by her husband. A warrant for Murphy's arrest has been issued in Long Beach.

"We hope each day that Murphy will be taken into custody and brought to justice," Butties declared today. "But so far we have not even learned anything which might lead to his apprehension."

Remained in Long Beach

That Murphy remained in Long Beach several days after he is alleged to have administered a beating to his bride, and did not leave that city until the day before her death, has been learned by the parents of the girl.

"Several hours after he beat our daughter, he returned to her room and asked forgiveness," Butties said. "Then Cordelia was removed to the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Welch, where she died, and she did not see her husband any more. But we have learned he remained in Long Beach until Friday."

The parents knew of "another woman" who had gone with Murphy and whose name was Mildred Merrill, they said today.

"He told us Mildred Merrill was desperately in love with him and was bound to have him, but never indicated he might have been married to her, as San Francisco officials now indicated, they said.

According to reports here, Murphy is believed to have met the Merrill girl after he beat his wife and that she accompanied him in his escape.

Couple Appeared Happy

"It is all so terrible we do not like to talk about it," Butties said. "They appeared so happy during their courtship and we thought we were giving our daughter in marriage to a splendid man. And we have learned that they were happy on their honeymoon until he suddenly turned upon her and beat her."

"The only reason we can give for the tragedy is that Murphy had been drinking. We did not know he was a drinking man, but it is evident he was intoxicated when he beat Cornelia."

Although Fresno police are conducting a thorough search for Murphy, Jack Broad, captain of detectives, admitted this morning that it is improbable that Murphy is hiding out in this vicinity.

"We are not leaving anything undone, however, in our search for him here, as we have nothing to indicate definitely that he is not here," Broad said.

JACK FROST MAKES APPEARANCE HERE

White frost was in evidence in Santa Ana this morning, following the coldest night thus far experienced here this winter. Tender vegetation and flowers, which had survived the assaults of Jack Frost Monday and Tuesday nights, curled their little heads and "turned up their toes."

This destruction, however, was not general, the damage being confined to growths in exposed places.

The cold snap of the last three nights has served to emphasize to citrus growers that the season of possible damage by frost is approaching and is a warning for them to be on guard against damage.

It was pointed out today by a grower that while Orange county citrus fruits are more or less immune from frost damage, there always is the possibility of Jack Frost creeping in and nipping new growth on citrus trees.

As reported by E. E. Campbell, 33 was the low point for the 24 hours ended at 6 a. m., today.

Pupil Recital

An interesting entertainment event took place a few evenings ago in Garden Grove at the Woman's Civic clubhouse, when two talented pupils of Holly Lash Visel, Miss Velma King and Miss Wilma Silver, were presented, one in expression and the other in vocal numbers.

Each showed the effect of careful training, and reflected in pleasing manner, the teaching ability of Mrs. Visel. They were assisted by Miss Agnes Wheeler in piano numbers, "Dance of the Demons" (Holst) and "Sweet By and By" by Walter Stier. Miss Silver opened the program with two charming songs, "Ho! Mr. Piper" by Curran and "Magnolia Bloom" by Bernd. Miss King's first numbers were delightful bits of Italian dialect, "Da American Girl" and "Da Posta Card from Napoli" both by Daley. As the program progressed her numbers were "Guilty or Not Guilty," "Asleep at the Switch," "Who's Afraid?" (Marjorie Benton Cook), and "Nora and the Twins" (Hare). All given with expression and vivacity.

Miss Silver's songs given during the evening were "The Blue Rose" by O'Hara; "Grandma" by Henry Sachs; "Mother Please Explain" and "No, I'll Not Go to the Wood," by Weckerlin. All of her accompaniments were played by Mrs. Lula Brackett of this city.

The stage with great baskets of yellow and lavender asters (which were later presented to the young artists), artistic floor lamps and rugs, made an appropriate setting for the picture of youthful charm presented by the young people.

Miss King, (daughter of the editor of the Garden Grove paper) wore a lace trimmed frock of pale pink taffeta with blue ribbons. Miss Silver wore black velvet and silver. Miss Wheeler was in apricot French voile with ivory lace and Mrs. Brackett wore apricot georgette.

TRIAL RESULT OF SENATE OIL INVESTIGATION

March, 1924, President Coolidge appointed Owen J. Roberts, Republican, a Philadelphia lawyer, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, to prosecute the violations of law which appeared to have been disclosed. Suits to annul the lease and contracts here involved and to annul the lease granted by Secretary Fall to Harry Sinclair's Mammoth Oil company, in connection with the Teapot Dome oil reserve, in Wyoming, were started. These are now before the U. S. supreme court.

Sinclair was indicted on charges of contempt of the senate for refusing to answer the committee's questions, and Fall, Doheny and Doheny's son were charged with bribery in other indictments not yet tried.

Doheny is one of the greatest international oil operators. He is nearly 71 years old, a native of Fond du Lac, Wis., and a resident of Los Angeles for many years. He led a picturesque life in the early days of the southwest, as surveyor, horse-trader, prospector and lawyer. He met Albert B. Fall, in Kingston, N. M., about 1886, and helped him organize counties of that territory.

Fall is 65 years old, a U. S. senator for more than 12 years, a former member of the New Mexico state supreme court and an authority on the Mexican law. He is a mild-appearing man, with blue eyes looking through narrow lids and the drooping white mustaches of the old, departed west. He retired from the Harding cabinet on March 4, 1923, just two years after he became secretary of the interior.

HELD TO ANSWER ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Dave Thompson, 36, cook, was held to answer to the superior court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, when he appeared before Justice C. W. Warner, Huntington Beach, yesterday.

Thompson was arrested some time ago, when he is alleged to have thrown a sugar bowl at Mrs. Jean Keith. Thompson was employed by Mrs. Keith. He was reported by police to have become enraged at the woman because of what she is alleged to have said about his cooking. Thompson is being held in the Orange county jail, as he was unable to post $200 bail.

Motorist Slightly Injured In Crash

Harold Hamlyn, 804 East Cypress avenue, Santa Ana, was cut about the head at 6:30 p. m., yesterday, when the automobile, in which he was riding with Russell E. Hamlyn, of the same address, collided with another machine at the intersection of Seventeenth street and Garden Grove boulevard.

A report of the accident was filed at the sheriff's office last night by Russell Hamlyn. The injured man was removed to his home and is not thought to be seriously hurt. No one in the other machine was reported injured.

Midnight Sun to Go Into Eclipse

UPSALA, Sweden, Dec. 16.—A unique astronomical phenomenon, a total eclipse of the midnight sun, is forecast for northern Sweden in the almanac for 1927, which has just been published at the university center here. The event will take place on June 29, when the sun is visible all night north of the Arctic circle.

In some parts of England there is a superstition that it is unlucky to take holly into the house before Christmas.

RICHARDSON AID TO BE ASKED IN ORMISTON CASE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Gov. Friend W. Richardson will be asked tomorrow to aid Los Angeles county authorities in their efforts to return Kenneth G. Ormiston here for trial.

Armed with an indictment, formally accusing the radio man of conspiracy to obstruct justice in connection with the Almee Semple McPherson mystery, Chief of Detectives Ben Cohn plans to leave here tonight for Sacramento. Cohn will ask the governor to sign a requisition on the governor of Illinois, he said, assuming that Ormiston will be arrested in Chicago tomorrow.

Under the law, Ormiston must be officially under arrest before the governor can take action to have him extradited.

The indictment returned against Ormiston, late yesterday by the Los Angeles county grand jury, cannot hasten his arrest. It merely adds formality to the charge of conspiracy which was filed against Ormiston several months ago, and fixes his bail at $10,000 in the event of his arrest.

ORMISTON SUFFERS FROM SEVERE COLD
CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Incapacitated by a severe cold, which prevented his surrender to authorities here yesterday, Kenneth G. Ormiston, under indictment in Los Angeles in connection with the Almee Semple McPherson "kidnaping" case, was reported as improved today.

The improvement noted in the former Angelus temple radio operator's condition brought about a hope that he will be able to fulfill an appointment made by his lawyer, Edward H. S. Martin, to surrender to Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, tomorrow.

Chief Collins has a fugitive warrant for Ormiston, issued by Municipal Judge Leroy Fairbank, and based on a warrant received from Los Angeles, which charged subornation of perjury in connection with the McPherson case.

Immediately after Ormiston's surrender, it is expected that, what probably will be a long fight against extradition, will start.

A Gift for the Home is the Gift Worth While —Can a Christmas gift so ideal be selected as one that brings to the family circle daily happiness and comfort for years to come?

—Such a gift answers perfectly the true purpose of all gift-giving—to serve as a constant reminder of the thoughtfulness and affection of the one who gives.

—The wonderful selection of home gifts now on display at Chandler's has been collected from far and near. Months ago a representative of this firm visited America's leading markets, personally selecting for residents of Orange county, home furnishings possessing the ideal requisites of gift things—individuality, beauty, usefulness, comfort and lasting quality.

—Chandler's distinctive gift pieces carry to the home they are to adorn something far greater than their intrinsic worth—their artistic merit and characteristic quality will be enjoyed and appreciated by the entire family long after other gifts are forgotten.

—The ideal home gift need not be expensive, for the Christmas spirit may be conveyed regardless of price. Among the great variety of suitable gift things at Chandler's you will be sure to find something appropriate within the limits of your purse.

—Whether you seek merely an idea for a gift or wish to make a purchase, you will find Chandler's a delightful shopping place these few remaining days before Christmas. Comparison of values is urged now, as at all times.

LARGE ESTATE LEFT BY LATE OTTO S. LEWIS

The late Otto S. Lewis, of Santa Ana, who died November 18, left an estate valued at $138,877, according to a listing of properties contained in a petition to probate his will, on file today in superior court.

The petition was filed by Reeves Aylmore, of Fillmore, represented by Attorney Charles H. Stanley, of Long Beach.

Lewis, who had no immediate family, left real estate in Los Angeles and Orange counties, valued at $75,000. A contract for the sale of Sharon Inn, Long Beach, was listed at $45,550. Another $10,000 was represented in personal property and insurance represented $2327.

There is said to be other property, outside California, not included in the probate proceedings.
Lewis was reputed to be owner of extensive timber lands.

The will provided legacies of $6000 each to two sisters-in-law, Maremma O. Shaw, Santa Ana, and Maud Willoughby, of Cleveland, O., the sums being intended for the purchase of homes. In addition, each was willed 1/100 of the estate, similar bequests being made in favor of a brother, Truman Lewis, of Santa Ana, and other relatives. Various relatives received $3000 annuities, effective for 20 years, a similar annuity being willed to a friend, Nettie Atterbury, who resides with Maremmie Shaw. The will provides that the residue of the estate shall be placed in trust for legal heirs, who are not named in the petition.

SMOKE OVERCOMES FULLERTON PASTOR

Father Mortimer Murphy, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, Fullerton, is in a serious condition in the Fullerton General hospital today, as the result of being overcome by smoke from a fire which broke out in his home early this morning, according to reports received here.

He is expected to recover.
The pastor was found in a bathroom after Fullerton firemen had battled their way into the smoke filled parsonage. Fire started in the pastor's study, according to firemen. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Damage to the house was estimated at $2000.

Prisoner Makes Getaway While At Work In Park

Antonio Rojo, serving a sentence of 100 days in the county jail for possession of intoxicating liquors, from Anaheim, escaped from guards in the Orange County park late yesterday afternoon, according to a report made today by the sheriff.

Rojo was working with other prisoners in the park, when he made a dash for liberty. An officer is said to have fired several shots at Rojo, but failed to halt him.

The "escape" has been in jail only a few days and his term would have expired on March 18, 1927.

PAIR ALLEGED AUTO THIEVES IN COUNTY JAIL

Believed to be wanted in Munroe, La., on a charge of stealing an automobile, W. L. Muller, 74, and Ed Downing, 22, of Louisiana, were arrested last night, by Sheriff's Officers Ed McClellan and Jesse Eliott, in San Diego, and are being held in the county jail here for Louisiana officers.

The arrests of the two men were accomplished after several days of effort on the parts of Mc-Clellan and Elliott, together with other sheriff's officers. The car, alleged to have been stolen, was found in Orange, where, it was said, it had been traded for another machine.

W. L. Muller is said to be A. W.
Miller, of Munroe, La. It is for W. A. Miller and Ed Downing that a telegraphic warrant was sent to Sheriff Jernigan last night, from Munroe. A telegram, received today, informed authorities that Louisiana officers were on their way to Santa Ana to take charge of the prisoners.

First word that the two men were wanted and were likely to be in Orange county came through the Business Men's association, when a telegram was received from the sothern city by Earl Ruddy, secretary of the association. Ruddy aided materially in apprehending the two men.

Muller is said to be married. His wife is believed to be in San Diego.

mated at $2000.

ALLEGED RABBIT THIEF ARRESTED

Wanted here on a charge of petit larceny, in connection with the alleged theft of three white, blue-eyed, Bevers rabbits, D. W.
Allen, 33, a street car motorman, of Hawthorne, who also is said to be a rabbit breeder, was arrested yesterday in Los Angeles and lodged in jail here.

He was taken before Justice Kenneth Morrison today, but asked for time to make a plea.
The rabbits were said to have been stolen from the hutches of Mrs. Laura Tucker, Anaheim, several days ago. According to the complaint, the rabbits were valued at $70.

Faces Second Jury On Larceny Count

J. C. Holland today was facing his second jury, retrial of a charge of grand larceny starting at 10 a. m., in Superior Judge James L.
Allen's court.

Holland is accused of stealing a $700 coupe, owned by Thomas Roach, of Yorba Linda. The car was stolen from in front of an Orana theater, it was claimed.
The first trial of Holland, held two weeks ago, resulted in a jury disagreement.

Chief Deputy District Attorney
D. C. Wetlin and Deputy Roy Shafer conducted the prosecution today. Attorney Leonard Evans, of Anaheim, defended Holland.

MAYOR HOST TO COLLEAGUES AT TURKEY DINNER

A Kansas corn fed turkey, cooked by a "Kansas girl" and served in the home of a former Kansan—that was the combination that attracted to the home of Mayor Frank Purinton, last night, a group of Santa Ana men closely associated with the mayor in his public and private life.

Fifteen men composed the group which sat down to the table in the dining room of the Purinton home and was served with turkey prepared in a style that clearly revealed the secret of why Mrs. Purinton is Mrs. Purinton. "Trimming" for a feast of this type were served in abundance and discussed amid rapid-fire quips between the guests and their host. Mrs. Purinton was assisted by Mrs. Ed Farnsworth, Mrs. Ruby Bush, deputy city clerk, and Miss Marian Suttner, Mrs. Bush and Miss Suttner officiating as distributors of the many good things provided for the party.

Discussions between Purinton, J. B. Collier, Z. B. West Jr., and J. W. Tubbs indicated that the affair was a two-year-delayed dinner wagered on a golf game played with West and Purinton opposing Collier and Tubbs. Secrets of the game and the mysterious presence of another's golf balls in the bag of a member of the golf quartet were revealed in unguarded remarks made by the men in the contest.

Incidentally it was revealed that the big turkey fowler which surrendered his life for the pleasure of the business men, was raised in Kansas and sent to Purinton for his Thanksgiving dinner. The bird arrived the day before Thanksgiving and his life was prolonged by the fact that the head of the house already had procured a turkey for the family dinner.

Cards dominated the entertainment following dinner. The guests were C. H. Chapman, Stanley Goode, E. B. Collier, members of the city council; E. L. Vegely, city clerk; Z. B. West Jr., city attorney; Nat H. Neff, city engineer; J. W. Tubbs, former mayor; F. E. Farnsworth, vice president First National bank; J. J. Harrison, Roy Russell, Charles Downie, Lew H. Wallace, "Doc" Gearheart, Hugh Smith, associates of Purinton in some of his enterprises, and Horace Fine, who represents The Register at the meetings of the council.

LODGED IN JAIL TO INSURE APPEARANCE

A complaining witness yesterday and a prisoner in jail today. That describes the case of J. R. Townsend, 32, operator of a cafe in the Huntington Beach oil field.

Townsend caused the arrest, on November 30, of Paul Martin and Frank Moore, both of Huntington Beach, charging that the two men had held him up and robbed him. The preliminary hearing of Martin and Moore was scheduled for yesterday, in Judge C. W. Warner's court, but Townsend failed to be among those present. A search was made and he finally was located. To insure his presence in court at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, he was lodged in Chief Jack Tinsley's custody.

The opinion was expressed at the bench today that Townsend failed to appear at the preliminary hearing because of fear he would be waylaid by friends of Martin and Moore and given a beating.

Mesa Club To Give Program

COSTA MESA, Dec. 16.—The Friday Afternoon club will hold its Christmas party at the clubhouse Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

An interesting program has been arranged. Christmas carols will be sung. Mrs. R. Steadman and Mrs. Ellis will be in charge. Mrs. Robert G. Horne, of Santa Ana, will give Christmas readings.

Each club member is asked to bring an inexpensive gift for the club kitchen. Tea towels, dish cloths, can openers, paring knives, etc., are needed.

4 WIVES BRING GRIEFS BEFORE DIVORCE COURT

Four wives sought marital freedom today, through four divorce petitions, filed in superior court. Two charged cruelty, one complained of non-support and the fourth alleged that she was deserted.

Hazel M. Keller, of La Habra, sued Allen B. Keller on grounds of alleged cruelty. They were married in Anaheim, in 1924, and separated last Sunday. Mrs. Keller asks custody of an infant daughter and $75 per month alimony, besides $200 for attorney fees and $25 costs. Attorneys Launer and Collins, of Fullerton, represent her.

Mrs. Lavina Richardson endured alleged cruelties for 32 years before seeking her freedom from Eliza Richardson, of Santa Ana. They were married in Erie, Kas., in 1894, and separated last Monday. Mrs. Richardson asks $100 per month alimony, stating that the couple owns a home at 611 South Birch street, Santa Ana, a 198-acre farm in Kansas and that she owns separate property consisting of 175 acres in Kansas, but that her husband receives the income from that, as well as the community property. Besides alimony, she asks $500 for attorney fees and $25 costs. Attorneys Bishop and Wellington and O. A. Jacobs are her counsel.

Non-support was charged by Vella V. Bidgood, of Santa Ana, in a suit filed against Marvyn V. Bidgood, through Attorneys L. A. West and B. Z. McKinney. The couple married in Santa Barbara, in 1924, and separated in Santa Ana, Dec. 7, 1926. Mrs. Bidgood wants custody of two small children and $50 per month alimony.

Mrs. Myrtle Bishop, of Santa Ana, accuses James Bishop of desertion. They were married in Los Angeles, in 1911, and separated Sept. 6, 1926.

MUSIC BOOKS ARE LEFT TO CLANFONI

Mrs. John Kline, who died recently, left a number of text books and musical scores to D. C. Clannfoni, director of the Santa Ana municipal band, it became known today.

Mrs. Kline at one time was piano teacher in the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and during her life assembled a large collection of musical books.

"The Black Hills," a march, dedicated to Mrs. Kline by J. Burri, often has been played by the Santa Ana band.

The books added to the library of Clannfoni include the opera scores "Carmen," "Trovatore," "The Serenade" and "Robin Hood."

Among the most valuable of the text books are Chadwick Harmony, Evolution of the Art of Music (Parry), the Virgil Clavier Method, Musical History (Fillmore) and Musical Education (Cady).

Piano music includes Chopin's polonaises, nocturnes, ballads, impromptus and waltzes and Beethoven symphonies for two pianos from No. 1 and No. 3.

Clannfoni said that the collection is at the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music and will be loaned to anyone who may wish any of the books or scores.

SHOPPERS MAY USE ROOMS OF Y. W. C. A.

The board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. has announced that the Y. W. C. A. rooms, on Fifth and Sycamore street, will be kept open from now until Christmas until 9 o'clock each night.

The reason for the change in hours, said Miss Nancy Elder, secretary, is to allow persons shopping in the evening to come to the rooms and leave Christmas bundles. The rooms also will be open on Sunday afternoons so that those who wish may come there to rest.

Miss Elder said that Miss Jennie Lasby had been appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for rebuilding the kitchen of the Y. W. camp, at Modjeska's. The kitchen was destroyed by the recent fire in that region.

Ebell Christmas Party For Daughters and Sons of Members

Already the thoughts of young people in Ebell households, are turning with lively anticipation towards the annual Christmas party which the club, acting through its hospitality committee, plans as a holiday gift to its sons and daughters.

The date of Tuesday, December 23 has been selected for the affair—the Tuesday after Christmas when the holiday spirit will be at its height. Afternoon hours will be devoted to the Very Small People and the evening to the Young People and the evening to the Young People and the evening to the Young People.

The afternoon party will feature all the things that children most dearly love to do and see. There will be a short dance program given by the younger pupils of the MacAdam School of Dancing which meets weekly in the assembly room of the clubhouse.

The chief feature of the evening entertainment will be dancing, for which excellent music will be arranged. There will also be a short demonstration by MacAdam pupils in the intervals of social dancing.

The society has placed a limit of 200 on the guest cards for the evening party, and Ebell members whose sons and daughters wish to attend, are advised to make their reservations at once through the committee composed of Mrs. J. H. Metzgar, Mrs. Norbert Lantz and Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson. Hospitality committee members under whom all plans are progressing and who are offering their aid in every way to the secondary committees and hostesses, are Mesdames E. M. Blake, (chairman), E. C. Nelson, Horace B. Van Dien, Ralph Mosher, Clyde Walker, G. E. Bruns, J. S. Smart, Ralph Smedley, J. K. Hermon, George Reymann, John L. Wheeler and Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Is Happy Affair

When Mrs. Georgia Hancock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Fowler of 840 Riverine avenue, becomes the bride on Christmas day of Fred Cullison of San Diego, she will have among the many handsome gifts to take to her new home, a varied assortment of household linens and china as a result of a happy gift shower, given yesterday afternoon in her honor by Mrs. M. Gill.

Neighbors and close friends of the honoree were bidden to the merry afternoon party, for which the Fowler home was decked in Christmas array. In the dining room, where refreshments were served, red garlands swayed above the table where a great wedding cake arose in five tiers, and was surmounted by a wee bride and groom beneath an arch of smilax.

The cake was baked by the hostess. When it was cut, Mrs. Hancock's mother, Mrs. Fowler, discovered the ring of good fortune concealed in it. Polenta salad and coffee completed the delicious refreshments.

Late in the afternoon, a great basket, draped in pink, was carried in and placed before the honoree, and everyone gathered around to enjoy her pleasure in the many lovely gifts. Especially interesting was a quilt pillow cover over 150 years old, of hand-made embroidery and presented as a keepsake by Mrs. Mary Emerson, together with another more modern piece of linen.

The wedding of Mrs. Hancock and Mr. Cullison will be at 11 o'clock on Christmas day, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fowler, 1128 South Flower street.

Asked to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Gill and the Fowler home, were Mesdames Martin Harrison, Alma Dohmer, Ida A. Dohmer, Emma Moore, Lydia Fowler, Mabel

Pretty Inn Luncheon Is Compliment to Coast Visitor

Presence in Santa Ana of Miss Laura M. Smith of New York City, head of the personnel department of the American Telephone company of which the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company is a branch, was incentive for a delightful little luncheon held Tuesday at St. Ann's Inn, with Miss Smith as honor guest.

The table where the young people were assembled, provided a charming picture of a California Christmas, for the easterner to retain in her memory. Scarlet candles glowed among equally brilliant poinsettias, and an appetizing menu was served.

Miss Smith came to the west coast to attend the annual conference of chief operators of the southern division, which was held in Los Angeles December 9 and 10. The guests invited to meet her when she came to Santa Ana, comprised the heads of personnel departments and chief operators in this immediate vicinity.

Guest place at the luncheon table, was accorded the easterner, and covers were also laid for Mrs. Winifred Fairs, chief operator, and Mrs. Lavinia McIntosh, employee representative, Santa Ana; Miss A. Laura Pickle of Los Angeles, traveling chief operator; Miss May Doehne of Los Angeles, head of the personnel department of the southern division; Miss Helen Hoskins, chief operator, and Miss Lillian Wilson, representative, Fullerton; Miss Julia Hyde, chief operator, and Mrs. Edna Schaffer, representative, Anaheim, and Miss Bertha Peterkin, chief operator of Orange.

Sewing Club Has Gay Evening Meeting

Miss Dorothy Thurston entertained the sewing club of which she is a member at her home, 805 East Fifth street, last evening, the decorations and refreshments carrying out the Christmas motif.

The evening was happily passed with Christmas needlework, and jolly chat enjoyed, while skillful fingers fashioned dainty articles. While the older girls were busy, the younger daughter of the home, Miss Margaret Thurston and her cousin, Miss Virginia Pope, dressed a doll, as a part of the Christmas work of the Girl Reserves, who are giving dolls for Mexican children and a bathrobe to an aged woman as their share of the Christmas cheer undertaken by this organization.

Those enjoying the evening besides the hostess and her mother, Mrs. F. W. Thurston, were Mrs. Alma Wilson, Mrs. Louise McGill, Mrs. Madeline Coulson, Mrs. Glenda Mae Kohler and Miss Henrietta Lykke.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Light Bearers and Little Light Bearers of the First Presbyterian church will be entertained at their Christmas party Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church parlors. Mrs. W. S. MacDougal will tell the Christmas story and there will be a tree and a visit from Santa Claus.

Friday Afternoon club members will be entertained tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. M. Halderman, 523 East Pine street.

Unique Party Plan Is Put Into Effect by P-T. A. Hostesses

Teachers of the Roosevelt school were entertained at a novel dinner party early in the week, by the executive board members of Roosevelt P-T. A. who invited their guests to assemble at the home of Mrs. Richard Cribaro, 439 South Sycamore street.

No sooner had the guests settled down to enjoy the evening however, than one by one, each teacher was asked to don hat and wraps and join a mysterious escort who had called for her. The gallant swains proved to be the hostesses dressed up in their husbands' clothes.

They drove their fair charges up and down Halladay street and then to Mrs. Frank Was' home on Orange avenue, where everything was gay with holiday decorations.

Soon all were seated at small tables for a Christmas dinner. Mrs. Was, in full dress, officiated as major-domo to the delight of all present. Each teacher found at her place a hand-painted handkerchief. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Was and Mrs. Cribaro made the lovely gifts.

During the stunts of the evening Miss Wells gave a Sioux Indian dance, and Miss Camblin an interpretation of the Hawaiian hula dance. It was decided before going home that every one had had a very wonderful time at the most unusual party ever given to the teachers.

The party was given in honor of the Misses Vera Wells, Martha Wierke, Margaret Grant, Pearl Camblin, Isabel Lindsay, May Pulham, Beth Walker, Gladys Campbell, and Mrs. Grace Wolf. The hostesses were Mesdames Frank Was, Ray Brown, Roy Beall, Dick Cribaro, E. A. Buck, O. V. Barton, Park Ash, U. L. Barge, J. E. Preston, John McAuley, S. H. Bradley and Sherman Means.

Quiet Wedding Comes As Surprise to Many Friends

Return from a honeymoon trip north, of Frank Hoffman, prominent citrus grower of Tustin, and his bride, disclosed to many friends, the news of their quiet wedding in San Bernardino on Monday, December 6.

Mrs. Hoffman was Miss Kate Thomas of Enid, Okla. The wedding was extremely quiet, since the two wished to keep the exact time, a secret from their friends and relatives. It was held at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, with the Rev. Mr. Mowbray of the San Bernardino Congregational church, officiating.

The happy couple left at once for the north, going by automobile and spending the greater part of the time in San Francisco. They will be at home to their friends at the Hoffman home on McFadden street, Tustin.

Y. W. Girls' Club In Christmas Party

Members of the Wrycende Maogdenau club of the Y.W.C.A. held their annual Christmas party last night at the Y.W. rooms, Fifth and Sycamore streets. The rooms were specially decorated for the occasion in reds and greens, and chief among the decorations was a tree on which was a gift for each member of the club.

The evening which was preceded with a Christmas dinner served at Ketter's cafe, was spent in playing games and in conversation. Among the gifts on the tree was a special one which was from the members of the club to Miss Lucille Gates who will soon marry Charles Frazer, of this city.

Christmas Bride-elect Is Complimented at Gay Dinner Party

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was the dinner party given Monday evening by Mrs. J. A. Harvey at her home on North Broadway, in honor of her niece, Miss Bernice Yeo, who, on Christmas eve, at her home in Ashland, Ore., is to become the bride of Dr. George E. Stannard, a promising young dentist of Los Angeles.

The table was gay with tall red candles and bright poinsettias and lovely brides marked the places for the guests who were Miss Yeo's associates on the staff at Franklin school.

After dinner, when they returned to the living room, Miss Yeo was called to the door where a messenger, none other than her cousin, Donald Harvey, in disguise, had her sign for a package, which upon being opened disclosed practical gifts from her co-workers, an electric toaster and an etched glass compote.

Mrs. Harvey then distributed tea towels upon which each displayed her originality in hemming. Later, Miss Yeo delighted her friends by showing the contents of her beautiful "hope chest" and the lovely things of her trousseau.

Miss Yeo will be greatly missed by her associates of Franklin school where she has endeared herself to all during the year and a half of her teaching there. Being an accomplished pianist, she has taken prominent place in the activities of the school.

Those enjoying Mrs. Harvey's gracious hospitality, besides Miss Yeo, were the Misses Fern Tedrow, Sadie McCaughy, Johanne Eiters, Nancy Laughhead, Cleo Allen, Edna Ingham, Hazel A. Crawford, Ethel Froese and Lottie Sweet. One member of the staff was absent, Miss Jessie Scott having been called to her home in the north on account of her father's illness.

Kindergarten Tots Will Give Plays

Master Bobby Speed is to enact Santa Claus tonight at the Christmas play, "The Empty Stocking Elk," which Miss Maurie Hamilton's small kindergarten children of Spurgeon school will present at the school house. Mrs. Santa Claus will be played by Little Catherine Esklund and the action of the play will take place in Santa's toy shop on Christmas eve just before midnight.

Hosts of tops, Peter Rabbit, Jack-in-the-Box, Noah and his Ark, Teddy Bear and others, will take part, also the Love Doll which Santa made for an old-fashioned little girl and in which he put all the love he would give his own little daughter if he had one.

The story of the play is a pretty one, and the children have rehearsed until they are ready to give a delightful interpretation tonight. The Christmas play will be followed by a New Year play, "The Lost Hour," in which Clyde Files will play Santa, Lawrence Trickey will be "Pinocchio," and Ellen Neal will be the Grandfather Clock. The story is a gay, fanciful little affair and of course comes out right in the end, even if mischievous Pinocchio does steal an hour from 12 o'clock to 1, preventing the New Year from entering for awhile.

With the plays will be recitations and drills by the small children and the Spurgeon school orchestra will play.

The "Gift Corner" will be open evenings until Christmas—Wingood's, 4th and Spurgeon.

Members of Boys' Chorus in Their Natty Orange and White Smocks and Duck Trousers

CHORISTERS WILL MAKE FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE TONIGHT IN HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Climaxing efforts extending over two months, the Santa Ana Boys' chorus of 160 young singers, chosen from the Santa Ana public schools, will be heard in its first concert tonight, in the Santa Ana polytechnic high school auditorium, the concert to begin at 7:30. The concert will be repeated tomorrow night.

The chorus was organized by the music teachers of the city schools at the suggestion of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, which organization has assumed a considerable financial obligation to make the concert of tonight and tomorrow night possible. Mrs. Frances Hunt Beeson, in charge of music in the city schools, directs the chorus. She has been assisted by Miss Edith Cornell, director of music in the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school.

Orange and White Smocks
When the curtain is raised tonight, the audience will see 160 boys, in orange and white smocks. Black ties and white trousers complete the uniforms. The organization fills the stage of the high school and several persons, well informed along musical lines, have said that the songs are sung in a more skillful manner than by any other choral organization in the history of the Santa Ana schools.

The program tonight will not be devoted entirely to the boys' chorus. The high school orchestra, under the leadership of S. J. Mustel, will open the program with an overture from the opera "Norma." As a part of the program after the intermission, the Junior College Boys' Glee club, directed by Myrtle A. Martin, will sing "Silent Night" and "Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem."

The fullest co-operation has been extended to those in charge of the chorus by the board of education, J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, and the principals of the various schools from which the boys have been selected. The costumes were purchased through Santa Ana stores.

Junior chamber of commerce officers have announced that they wish to accomplish two main purposes through the chorus, inspire in the boys a love of good music and bring about an acquaintanceship with the world renowned composers and to advertise Santa Ana. The first radio program will be broadcast Saturday night, December 18, from 7 to 8 o'clock, from station KPON, Long Beach. The second radio "appearance" will be from station KWTC, Santa Ana, Saturday night, December 25. Radio programs also are being arranged for stations KHJ and KNX.

The accompanists for the chorus are Elizabeth Parslowe, Esther Jane Davis and Audrey Dohmer. The art direction is in charge of Hazel Nell Bemus.

Sponsored By Junior Chamber
The organization is sponsored by the junior chamber of commerce, J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, and the Santa Ana board of education.

The complete program for tonight's concert is as follows:

I. Overture from "Norma".....Bellini
High School Orchestra

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1926

PAGES SEVEN TO TWELVE

IDEAS and Ideals

Early settlers in Santa Ana first tried to make a grain-farming district of this territory. Later, they went in for prunes and apricots, both crops being quite successful. Twenty-five years ago, old residents say, the apricot picking season was the busy time of the year and the whole population, with the exception of those who found it necessary to stay in their places of business, turned out to help gather and care for the crop. Later years brought lemons and oranges to the fore. This immediate vicinity has developed into the choicest orange-producing land in the world. Orange county oranges bring more money on the market and the land sells for a higher price than in any other part of the world. Recently there has been some thought that perhaps Orange county has not yet found the crop for which it is most ideally suited.

A man on the street was asking yesterday whether or not avocados will crowd oranges off the agricultural map in Orange county. He also was wondering if the market might not be flooded with avocados to the point of over-production, thus making the growing of avocados unprofitable.

There is apparently no danger of either of those things coming to pass. Avocados have four principal requirements. They must have suitable soil, a warm climate, plenty of water and protection from the wind. They will require fertilization and some attention in any event, but unless the four conditions above mentioned exist, there will be little success in avocado culture. Those conditions do not exist in many parts of Orange county where oranges have been quite a success.

Much of the soil surrounding Santa Ana would be suitable for avocados, but most of it is exposed to the wind and nearly all is subject to lower temperatures than avocados will endure. In the hills north and east of Santa Ana are thousands of acres of ideal avocado soil. The southwest slopes are naturally shielded from the damaging winds and the elevation makes an agreeable temperature, but the water is lacking. It is probable that many of the lemon groves in Orange county, especially those in the higher altitudes, will be taken out and replanted to avocados, but it will be impractical to develop new avocado acreage in considerable scope in Orange county until some new source of irrigation water is found.

It is unlikely that avocados will ever be over produced in California. The area in which avocados can be produced profitably is quite limited. It will never increase. The consuming public in America is enormous and it is continually increasing. It is doubtful if more than one American out of 100 ever tasted an avocado. When the production reaches the point of justification, the avocado growers will form an organization. The American taste for avocados will be cultivated. A taste for olives usually must be acquired. It is so with avocados. The Hood River ranchers have sold millions of dollars worth of apples by appealing to the taste and imagination of the apple-eating public, through magazine and newspaper advertising. The same has been done for oranges and there is no reason why avocados should go begging, in a country where 120,000,000 people

Packing House in Season
—Avocados Cultivated

Acreage that 50 years ago sold for $25 in the Villa Park district is today valued at prices ranging from $2000 to $5000 and, even at that figure, there isn't a square foot for sale.

Owners of citrus orchards will not place a price on their groves. Land in the Villa Park section is high priced because ideal weather conditions make it one of the best citrus farming districts in Orange county. Lemons and oranges and more recently, avocados are cultivated. The packing plant of the Villa Park Orchards' association shipped out 575 carloads of oranges this year and the Central Lemon association, the largest lemon house in the world in point of acreage, sent out 431 carloads.

Where once sage brush and cactus grew, the citrus orchards are cultivated today. Some of the first men to come into the section were G. C. Morrow, James Smith, Ray Billingsley and Victor Montgomery. The profit resulting from citrus growing places is at the front, as virtually the only occupation. During packing season, the Orange and lemon houses, together employ as many as 800 workers.

This year's orange crop, shipped from the Villa Park house was valued at an even $1,000,000, and the lemon crop, despite low prices, brought $600,000. It was learned from the packing houses.

A considerable community development has taken place at Villa Park. The grammar school was rebuilt last February at a cost of $23,000. In the type of construction and outlay, the school has been cited by the state department of education as ideal. Mrs. Bessie Gilloghy is president of the Parent-Teacher association, and Charles W. Morrow is the president of the school board.

Overlooking Villa Park on the hills to the northeast is the Fairway Country club, recreational center for business men of Villa Park, Orange, Olive and Anaheim.

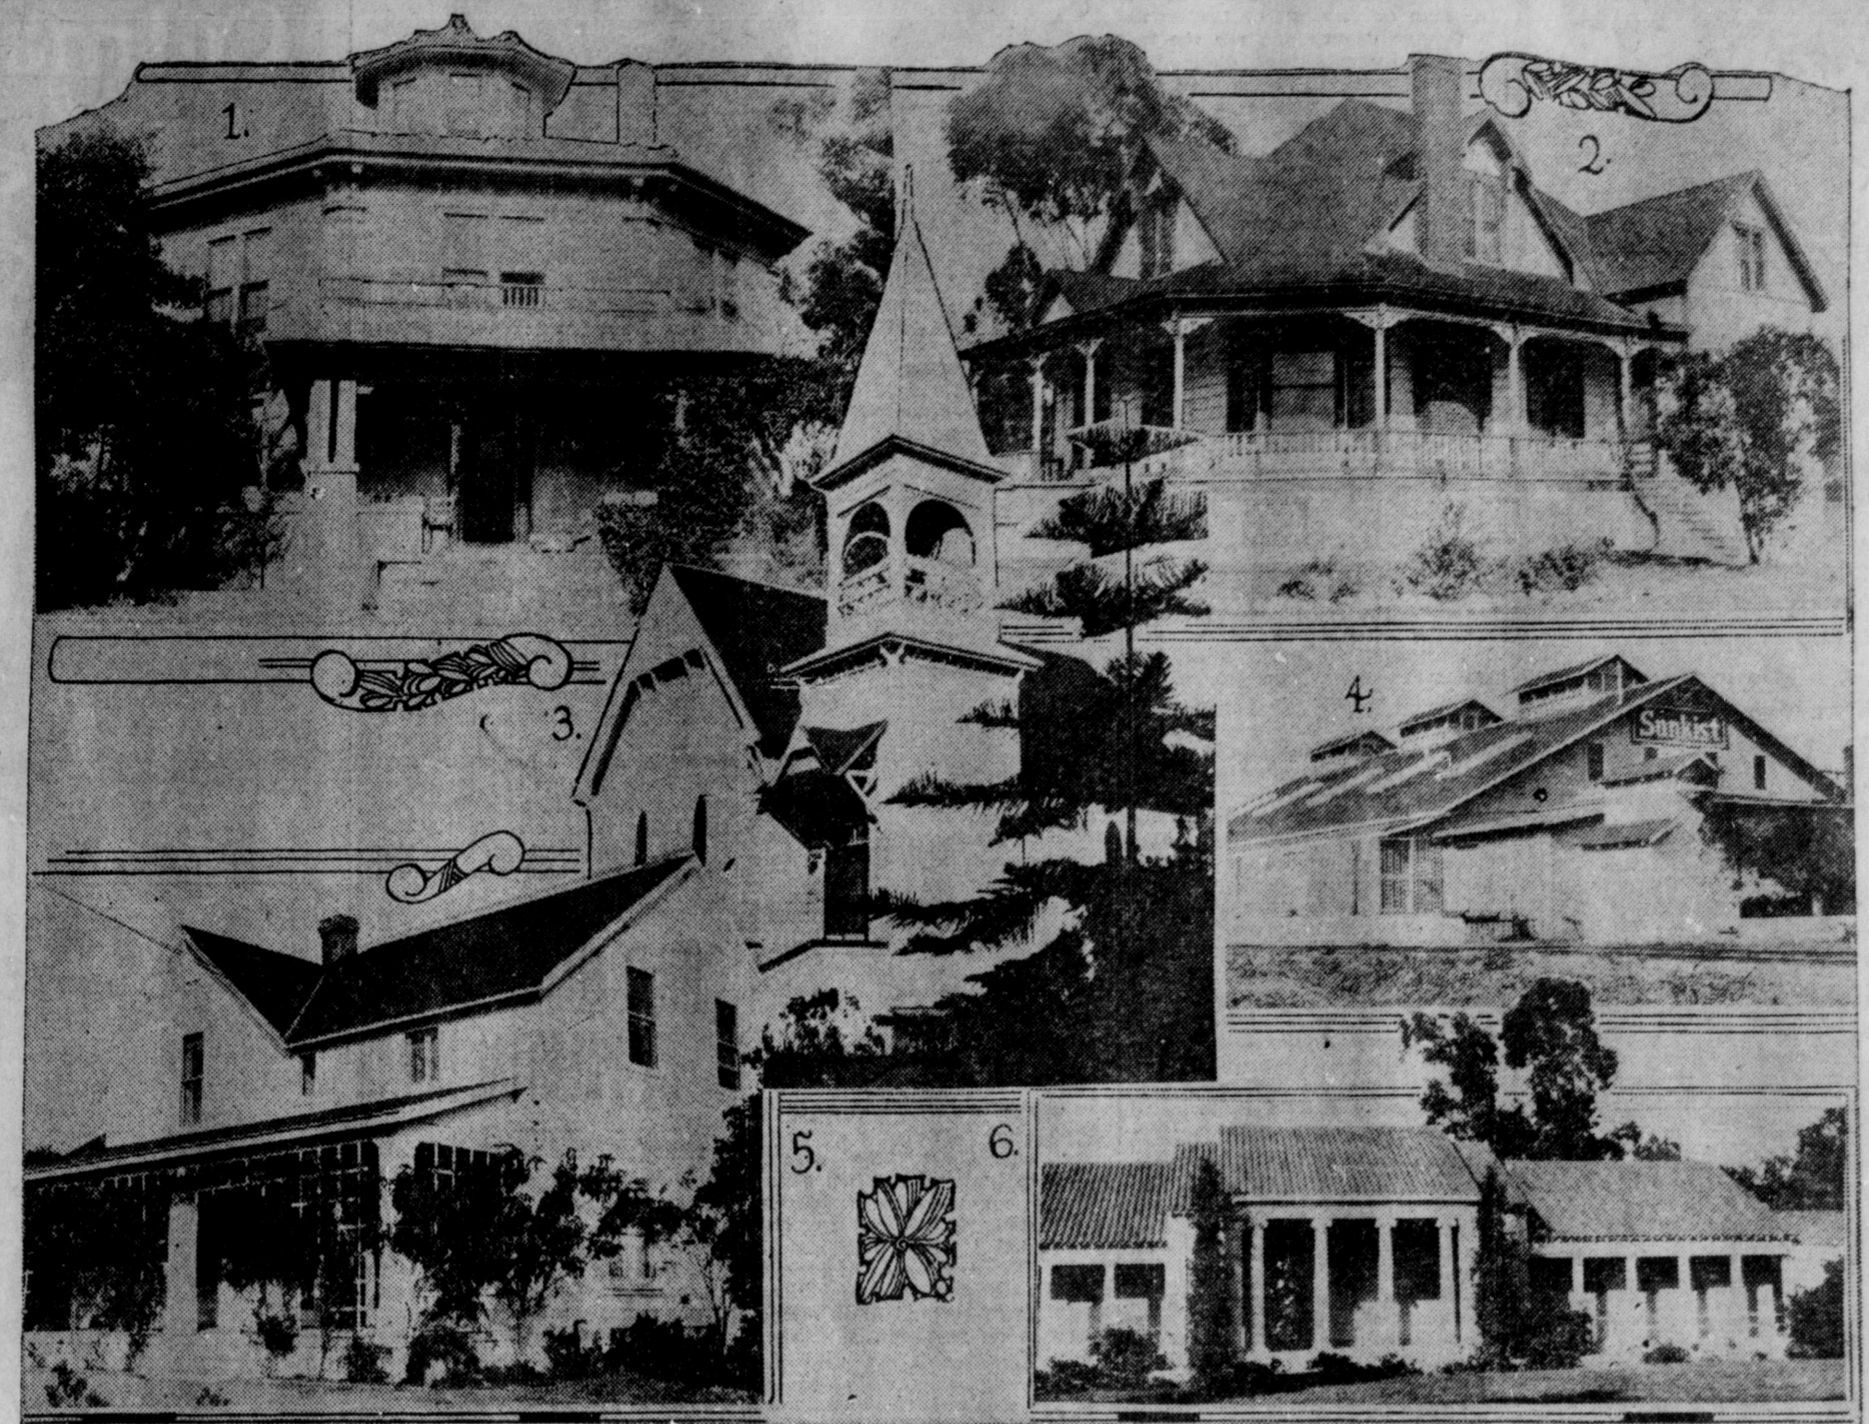

A congregational church, with the Rev. Walter M. Tiple as pastor, is maintained by the community.

The social life of the community centers about the church and school. A Friscilla club has been organized among the women.

LAGUNA PROPERTY OWNERS PLAN ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

Laguna Beach will have one of the most beautiful boulevards in the state if present plans of property owners along the line of the State highway from Myrtle to Cypress streets are carried to fruition. A petition is being circulated, with almost no opposition, asking the board of supervisors to form an ornamental lighting district to include the territory that will be paved shortly by the state, county and property owners. The distance is 1.54 miles through the heart of the town and extends from the cliffs to Arch Beach, connecting the two sections of the State highway that have already been graded and surfaced.

The Laguna Beach planning committee has approved plans for the lighting of the boulevard and a mass meeting of citizens okayed the standards and units approved by the planning body. It has been settled that there will be double units on the standards in the center of the business district, running from Beach street to Aster, and a very sizable group of property owners would like to have the double lighting extended the entire length of the paved boulevard.

As soon as Forest avenue is widened the property owners along that thoroughfare will install ornamental lights, probably to match those of the boulevard.

N. Elliot West and George N. Brown served as a committee of the property owners to investigate standards and units throughout the Southland.

The Coast highway from Laguna Beach to Newport Beach these days is the scene of great activity. Three big improvements jobs are in progress at one time. The Laguna Beach water district is laying its main line of 30-inch pipe, the gas company is laying a six-inch main and the State highway maintenance department is building shoulders on the surfaced road. A signal system has been installed at several points to take care of the traffic. Trenching machines, two big rollers, machines for back-filling, derricks, shovels and many huge trucks are at work on the three big jobs.

DOUGLAS NAMED EXCHANGE MANAGER

Eugene Douglas has been named to succeed Elmer Schaniel as secretary-manager of the Orange County Builders' Exchange, it was announced today.

Douglas will take up the duties of the office on January 1, when Schaniel leaves to take a position as deputy county clerk under County Clerk Joe Backs.

In order to become acquainted with the work, Douglas will be in the office from now on, it was stated.

Douglas was chosen from a list of several applicants. He was first chairman of the Armistice parade.

When Schaniel assumed the duties of the office, one year ago, the treasury of the exchange boasted $18, with several bills outstanding. The annual report given at the monthly meeting December 7, showed a balance of better than $400 in the treasury with all bills paid.

Under Schaniel's regime, the exchange has prepared and submitted to city boards of trustees a uniform building code.

ZONING ORDINANCE UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT OF U. S.

With adoption of a zoning ordinance contemplated by the city council of Santa Ana, decision of the United States supreme court upholding the constitutionality of such ordinance is of interest here.

Constitutionality of municipal zoning ordinances as an exercise of police power asserted for the public welfare was sustained by the court in the case of the village of Euclid, Ohio, and Henry W. Stein, inspector of buildings for Euclid, appellants, vs. Ambler Realty company. The decision has been awaited by municipalities everywhere as of first importance in determining the validity of zoning ordinances enacted by more than 450 cities and villages.

By the breadth of the decision, the court gives a clear legal right-of-way to ordinances designed to make possible an orderly development of American cities, and to minimize the economic waste which haphazard development entails.

The court specifically points out that the present decision does not preclude the throwing out of any individual zoning ordinance which may be drawn in an arbitrary manner or in a manner not conducive to the general welfare.

The present opinion definitely takes into consideration the fact that conditions of life are rapidly changing and that, with the great increase and concentration of population, problems have developed and are developing which require, and will continue to require, restrictions not hitherto necessary in respect to the use and occupation of private lands in urban communities.

GARAGE RISING ON EAST FIRST STREET

Construction has started on a public garage at 702 East First street by W. W. Jones, of 710 East First street. The building will cost approximately $9000 and will be of brick.

The garage will occupy ground space 49 by 109 feet. Plans were prepared by Fay Spangler. The contract is held by R. C. McMillan.

Motorists Are Advised to

Capistrano and Park

(Editor's Note: The following was written by G. F. Rinehart and appeared in the Covina Citizen November 25.)

"Orange county is most appropriately named. It is rich in coloring, delicious in flavor, and has a most appealing odor from the myriad blossoms that shed their incense on the invigorating air.

"While it is one of the smaller counties of the state, it is at the same time one of the richest in all that contributes to material welfare. In natural resources it has a vast field of petroleum hidden a mile beneath its surface, an underflow of water from the Santa Ana river and a soil that awaits only the art of cultivation to produce an abundance.

Oil Brings Wealth

"The oil has been discovered and brought to the surface, the water has been utilized in irrigation, the soil has been made to render an accounting of its hoard. The result is a total that any county might envy.

"The output of oil has been maintained at a healthy level, the citrus crop has shown magnificent results, the walnut acreage has paid magnificent dividends, and the largest bean farm in the world has done its full share to give distinction to the delightful garden spot known as Orange county.

Has Great Charm

"In motoring through the Southland, Orange county is frequently on the itinerary of the discriminating motorist. To the tourist it is a dreamland and to the resident who has become blasé over the many attractions of Southern California, Orange county has not lost its distinctive charm.

"My impression of Orange county was formed first, when, in July, 1917, my wife and I arrived in California for the first time and drove north from San Diego on our way to Los Angeles on a tour that had no other object than inspection and recreation. The singular beauty of Orange county, from Capistrano to La Habra, had an irresistible appeal. In fact it seemed almost too good to be true.

"The following year we left our Iowa home to reside in California, and here we remain, content. While circumstances prevented our locating in Orange county, we nevertheless settled in an orange empire as nearly alike Orange county as we could find. Ever since that time Orange county has been on our visiting list at least a dozen times a year, and we have grown to regard it as part and parcel of our personal assets to have and to hold and enjoy forever.

Many Clean Towns

"Orange county is distinctive in that it has many of the neatest, cleanest and most progressive

We know a lot of homes here in Santa Ana that have waste room in the attic. By using Wall-board, one or more attractive rooms could be added to the house. The cost would be small. Think that little idea over and report to the Barr Lumber company for further advice, etc.

Orange County Distributor for Diamond Tires

Once in the dear, dead days beyond recall when we were supporting a fluctuating number of knights militant through proceeds from sales of securities someone wiser than the rest evolved the slogan, "Buy till it hurts."

The knights came home one day. They left the world "safe for democracy." Quite logically, they could not make it stay that way. Some folks will not stay put. When the question arises, "To fight or not to fight," they fight first.

And this "Buy Till It Hurts" falls into use each year during the open season for Christmas gifts. It's a fine idea and should immortalize its inventor. It quickens business, brings hidden resources to light, brightens the lives of countless thousands and when the list includes one of our personally guaranteed tires it rolls happiness into the lives of many besides the giftee. Get the size of the tire and phone us. We finish a very good gift buying job in a very finished manner.

ARTICLE IN PAPER GIVES COUNTY PRAISE

towns in Southern California. Where on earth can you find more good towns closer together, than you can find in Orange county? There is Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton—in fact look on the map or visit all of the towns in Orange county and see the individual features that distinguish each and you will realize that Orange county is unique in respect to flourishing towns.

"Have you ever been to Orange County park? If you have you will need no adjective expressing the delights of that recreation center. Suffice it to say that nature built that park, apparently on purpose, and all art has been able to add is a highway and a few conveniences to make it one of the available beauty spots of California. More and more as time goes on, the park will be used and appreciated by the generations who will honor the donor, Mr. Irvine, for the munificence of his gift.

Ocean Charm Told

"The county with a beach and ocean frontage has an unfair advantage when comparisons are instituted. The charm of the ocean, of the beach, of the breakers, the precipitous cliffs, and shady nooks and rocky inlets, all give a prestige and distinction that no inland county can approach.

"There are Huntington Beach, Newport and Balboa, and many smaller towns in Orange county, inviting boating and yachting and fishing and bathing with the side lines of the hot dog and other Coney island attractions to embellish a day of recreation, and when it comes to Laguna there is only one such place. Laguna stands alone. The weird formations, the rolling surf, the cozy nook in which it is situated, all are so attractive that it is no wonder it has become distinguished as an artist's colony and one of the most alluring spots for a Sunday visit on the entire Pacific coast.

Mission Praised

"Then there is San Juan Capistrano, a sort of benediction with which to close a description of Orange county—Capistrano, so attractive, so appealing to the Franciscan Fathers who explored the Pacific coast in those early years in search of opportunities to convert the Indians and take possession of the land for the King of Spain. Here they built a mission, the remains of which are a scenic attraction for every tourist and a source of pride and reverence to the permanent resident. Capistrano is the gateway between Los Angeles on the north and San Diego on the south, and a popular stopping place between these terminal points on the great Ocean highway.

"Thus, rich in traditions, in natural resources, in all that man has been able to add to nature, Orange county welcomes the newcomer, whether as a visitor or a prospective resident, assuring a hearty welcome, a sincere friendliness for each and all. Such is my impression of the county and its people, and a similar experience will doubtless make this impression yours."

are always looking for something good to eat.

The avocado idea has been spreading in Southern California during the past two years. Hundreds of acres, formerly in other crops, now are planted to avocados and many ranchers are planning to make such a change. The experimental stage is almost passed. It has been found that avocados require less attention than any citrus fruit. They are successfully produced without any cultivation whatever and with very little, if any pruning. The trees put forth a mat of feeding roots very near the surface, at times protruding from the ground. Cultivation disturbs and damages the roots. The surface roots are there for the purpose of absorbing water, and the quantity a young tree will absorb is astonishing. One grower, probably the most successful in Orange county, makes no attempt at cultivation. He spreads a heavy mulch of straw and manure beneath the trees and waters them by an overhead system. It has been learned that the trees do much better if the leaves are kept clean by washing, and the water coming down through the mulch provides both food and drink to the tree. Its apparent immunity from damaging pests and diseases is an important point in favor of the avocado.

The "Gift Corner" will be open evenings until Christmas—Wingood's, 4th and Spurgeon.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Presenting what may be eventfully determined "the greatest American Drama," a motion picture without hokum, super-sophistication, sexism, "The Winning of Barbara Worth," which opened at the West Coast-Walker yesterday, should earn new laurels for Henry King, its director, and Samuel Goldwyn, its producer.

King has turned out what may be the greatest picture of his career and it is great because he tells it simply and without pretentiousness. "Barbara Worth" has a swing and an onward movement throughout.

The picture brings to the spotlight an entirely new and different Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky Colman is magnificently unique, the matinee-idol atmosphere which surrounds some of his earlier productions is entirely absent, and it is easy to believe that he has no difficulty in proving himself a real man among men.

The love story is simple and unaffected but beautiful. Willard Holmes, the easterner, and Abe Lee, the westerner, both adore the golden-haired Barbara Worth. One wins and one loses, but the manner of their winning and losing and the way the two men develop a grudging respect and even admiration for each other is a thrilling story so different from the usual run of triangle situations as to hold the intense interest of the audience.

Gary Cooper, as the westerner, Paul McAllister as "the seer" and Charles Lane as Jefferson Worth do unusually good work. Clyde Cook and Erwin Connelly handle the comedy capably.

why Racing Drivers use Ethyl Gasoline—

ASSOCIATED ETHYL GASOLINE
Knocks out that "knock"

The greatest races of the country are held each year at the Indianapolis Speedway. . . . For 4 years the first three cars in the world's most grueling motor test have used an Ethyl Gasoline. . . . Ethyl Gasoline produces greater r.p.m. [Revolutions per minute] in a motor. Greater speed, greater power. Any carbon present is actually put to work. . . . Associated Ethyl gives you these results in your own car—a super-fuel truly remarkable in performance.

It gives you these great advantages:

Actually turns carbon into power. Stops that knock n hills or in slow traffic. Saves expense—no more carbon removal. Occasional valve grinding is all that will be required. ASSOCIATED ETHYL is regular sustained quality Associated Gasoline (with its distinctive chain of boiling points) to which has been blended a small quantity of Ethyl brand anti-knock compound—perfected in the great research laboratories of the General Motors Corporation. The addition of Ethyl compound does not change the high quality of Associated Gasoline. It creates improved combustion conditions within the cylinders, so that the gasoline can perform to its full capacity. Fill your tank today! Note the improved driving conditions. Associated Ethyl Gasoline is sold for 3 cents above the regular market price of gasoline.

WATER CONSERVATION PLANS REVEALED TO KIWANIS CLUB BY SUPERVISOR S. H. FINLEY

Orange county will proceed as speedily as possible with plans for conservation of flood waters of the Santa Ana river, Col. S. H. Finley, member of the board of supervisors, intimated yesterday, in an address, before the Kiwanis club, on water conservation plans.

Colonel Finley recounted the early formation of Orange county, pointing out how the valley was created and the formation of strata, from which wells today are drawing water supplies.

Full explanation was made of the manner in which the strata are supplied and the effect of the increased demand, brought about by the development of the county.

He declared emphatically that were all the flood waters of the river conserved by depositing in underground streams, the supply would not meet the present demands for irrigation and domestic water and he referred to introduction here of the Colorado river as the only possible action in the creation of a condition that will make it possible for Orange county to extend development beyond that of today.

Asserting that in the 48 years he has lived in this section, water levels have receded on an average of two feet a year, Finley said that if the levels have lowered that much under the situation of very limited use in the early development of the county, refilling of the underground basin, never could be anticipated with the heavy drains that are being made now and the still heavier demands that may be made as the county continues development to the possible limits of the supply.

Stressing the possibility of the Santa Ana river in absorbing waters, Finley said that in the storm of April 5 to 15, this year, measurements had disclosed that 2300 acre feet of water passed the site of the proposed dam at Prado and a flow of 21,000 acre feet at the junction of Santiago creek with the river. He pointed out that between the two points, 11,000 acre feet had percolated from the river bottom to the water strata. At the same time, measurements were made in the Santiago creek, in Orange County park. The volume of water in the stream at that point was 11,000 acre feet and, when it reached the junction with the Santa Ana river, it was 8000 acre feet, which means that 3000 acre feet found its way into the ground.

Water from the combined streams had a volume of 29,000 acre feet at the West Fifth street bridge and Colonel Finley stressed the point that this entire volume flowed into the ocean and was lost, so far as concerns benefits to the upper portion of the Santa Ana valley.

Finley cited the absorption figures for Santa Ana river and Santiago creek as illustrative of the possibilities of sinking flood waters and stated that the dam at Prado was not contemplated as part of a reservoir but as part of a system for storing the flood waters so that they might percolate into the water strata.

W. W. Hoy, civil engineer for Santa Ana, at the request of Finley, presented figures on the flow of the Santa Ana river on the fourth of this month. Hoy has been engaged in making a series of observations of the flow of the river. On the date named, he said 362 acre feet passed Prado, 103 feet the Olive bridge, 18 feet the Fifth street bridge and 11 feet at what is known as Adams bridge, below Talbert. He said that the flow covered only 25 per cent of the river bed and asserted that had the stream been spread out over the full width of the river, none of the water would have reached the ocean.

During his address, Finley said that the sum of $5,000,000, estimated as the cost of the conservation work to be done at Prado, would be expended in construction of the dam, changing the bridge of the Santa Fe railroad company, relocation of a county highway and the purchase of 1000 acres of land. The land, it is estimated, will cost $1,800,000.

Pointing out that steps in development of the conservation plan require passage by the state legislature, of an enabling act, the creation of a district and the voting of bonds, the speaker said that in his opinion, it will be at least two years before the conservation project can be completed, even if the procedure is carried on with the utmost speed permissible under the law requirements.

Dr. C. D. Ball, assemblyman-elect, said that a bill, providing for the creation of a flood control and conservation district, already had been prepared and handed him for introduction at the coming session of the legislature. He anticipates no trouble in procuring its adoption by the state body.

Charles H. Chapman, water commissioner on the Santa Ana city council, presented data on the lowering of the water levels in Santa Ana city wells. The figures quoted revealed that the level lowered 25.71 feet between January, 1921, and August, 1926. Data presented by the councilman was of extreme interest and was as follows:

Depth to water, January, 1921, 36.2 feet; August, 46.5 feet; January, 1923, 39.6 feet; August, 52.9 feet; January, 1926, 59.2 feet; August, 74.92 feet.

Officiating at the request of Elmer Steffenson, program chairman, J. P. Baumgartner introduced the speakers and accepted the opportunity of paying personal tribute to Finley, whom he declared to be one of the most outstanding men of the county in the contribution of talents and time to public welfare.

The Girls' Glee club, of Frances Willard junior high school, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Beeson, music director at the school, contributed the musical numbers on the program.

REVOLT AGAIN FACING RUSSIA. SAYS EDUCATOR

With continuous quarrels between the leaders of the Bolshevik forces, with a growing split between the industrial workers and the peasants, with atheism supplanting religious belief and with disintegration of family life and social order, Russia rapidly is approaching another revolution, which most likely will bring her back into the line of capitalistic states.

This was the opinion expressed last night by Dr. Tully Cleon Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific, Stockton, and noted educator, in the course of an address delivered before a large audience in the Congregational church. The address formed a part of the Santa Ana City Teachers' institute.

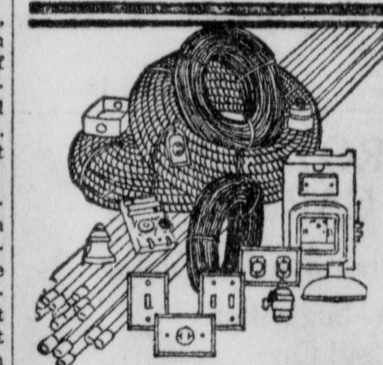

Dr. Knoles returned recently from the Soviet republic, where, in company with other Americans, he made a thorough study of the political, economic and social conditions.

Not Promoting Tourist Travel
Explaining the circumstances which induced him to take advantage of an offer to visit Russia, Dr. Knoles brought out that it is a rather difficult matter to enter Russia. The Soviet government is not promoting tourist business, the speaker observed. In fact, it is discouraging such travel. Likewise, there is an antagonistic attitude against casual visitors and foreign investigators. This attitude, he explained, is due to the fact that there has been much misrepresentation of conditions in Russia by prejudiced writers and travelers.

Touching upon the causes that led to the revolution, Dr. Knoles said that in the beginning it was a fight against the autocratic government of the Romanoffs and the despotism of the Greek-Catholic church, the established church of the empire. So closely were the state and the church allied that the latter used its offices for police work, the speaker declared. The people wanted a democratic government and a free church.

Speaking further, he pointed out that contrary to general belief, the early leaders of the revolutionary movement were recruited from the upper and middle classes and not from the masses. The need for reform was recognized by Czar Nicholas II, who labored for the establishment of a democratic form of government. His efforts along this line were balked by the members of the court and the ecclesiastical authorities, who feared that their prerogatives would be interfered with.

Another factor which precipitated the revolution in 1917 and strengthened the cause of the ultra-radicals, was the frightful condition of the Russian armies during the war. As a result of graft and corruption, there neither were munitions nor supplies for the troops, which, practically unarmed, were sent to fight the German forces. Unable to offer any resistance, whole regiments of the Russian army were mown down by the German guns.

Today, Joseph Stalin, secretary-general of the Communist party and leader of its all-powerful central committee, is the strong man of Russia, Dr. Knoles asserted. Although he holds no government office, he virtually is the dictator of the Soviet republic.

The speaker went on to say that Stalin is a man of conservative inclination and it is believed that he will turn toward a fuller recognition of private capital and individual property rights.

It also was brought out by Knoles that Stalin is not enthusiastic about the Third International and its propaganda for world revolution. On the contrary, he is more concerned to institute reforms that will bring the country back to a sound economic basis.

Surrounded by Russians
In his endeavor to bring about desired improvements, Stalin has surrounded himself with men who are 100 per cent Russians, much to the chagrin of the opposition, which classifies itself as "disillusioned Jews."

Referring to the growing split between the industrial workers, the followers of the Bolshevik leaders and the peasants, Knoles brought out that the latter have the sympathetic ear of the political leaders.

Stalin appreciates the fact, the speaker averred, that unless some-

Hubbies Forced To Washtubs by Wisconsin Law

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 16.—Wisconsin has a law which is causing workmen to roll up their sleeves every Monday morning and help with the family washing.

The law doesn't make any mention of the washtub—it simply requires that workmen in virtually every branch of industry be required to leave their jobs for 24 consecutive hours each week. But a questionnaire, sent out by the state industrial commission shows that most of the employers who keep their factories open Sunday allow their men to lay off Monday and then workers complain that they are thus forced to labor over the steaming washtubs.

Because of this and because the law makes it impossible for them to put in "overtime" labor many industrial workers are opposed to the law, which was intended for their protection, the state commission reported.

thing is done quickly to relieve the economic situation of the peasants, they will furnish the recruits for the new revolution that is engendered by anti-Bolsheviks living outside of Russia.

CHANNEL SWIM
DECIDED TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Whether women will be permitted to compete in the Catalina channel swim January 15 clad only in "grease" was to be decided today.

Members of the governing committee of the $40,000 "Wrigley Sea Marathon" left here late this morning for Catalina Island where they meet with William Wrigley Jr., millionaire sportsman and donor of the purse for the swim, to draw up final rules for the swim.

Proper swimming apparel for women contestants was scheduled to take up a good part of the committee meeting.

Two women members of the governing body, stating they had the support of the local ministers and women's clubs said they were positive that women entrants in the 23-mile crossing would be forced "for modesty's sake" to don some garments.

Male members of the committee have already stated that what entrants wore "was nobody's business" and before so many protests were entered told Mrs. Charlotte Schoenmel of New York that she might wear any kind of a suit or if she preferred, no suit at all.

The committee was scheduled to scout the coast in Wrigley's yacht "Quest" to find a suitable starting place for the "sea derby." They were also to set a time for starting. Twelve noon, 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. were looked on by committee members as the most logical times for the entrants to take to the water.

A resolution of the Los Angeles branch of the W.C.T.U. protesting against women swimmers competing in the "nude" was handed to members of the committee just before they left for Catalina Island.

The resolution said that the Los Angeles County W.C.T.U. was a body of Christian women and that "such brazen vulgarity" was not considered necessary for the channel swim.

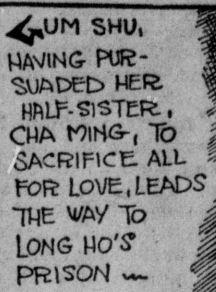

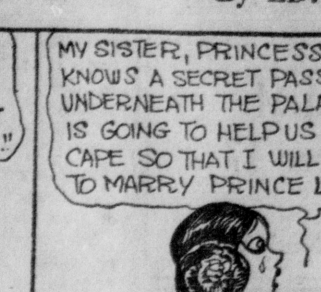

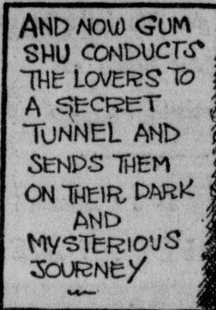

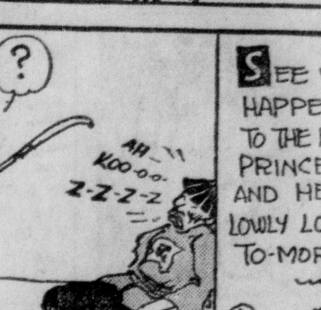

Probably the only football team of vegetarians in the country is that of Battle Creek (Mich.) college. Battling on a no-meat diet, the team showed wonderful endurance powers in the season just closed, winning all but two of its games.

U. S. G. ELEVEN
WILL PLAY TEN GAMES IN 1927

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Only one open date for rest purposes is afforded University of Southern California football men on a 1927 schedule which extends from September 24 to December 3. The program includes two inter-sectional frays—one at home and the other on foreign soil—besides five Pacific Coast conference contests and three non-conference battles. Only two of the 10 games are away from home.

The schedule was completed with the signing of Colorado for an inter-sectional game here November 12. The Trojans had two open dates, November 5 and 12, but the Southern California conference booked a Coliseum game for the earlier date. Southern California will rest November 5.

The schedule now comprises: September 24—Occidental college at Los Angeles; October 1—Santa Clara at Los Angeles; October 8—Oregon Aggies at Los Angeles; October 15—Stanford at Palo Alto; October 22—Caltech at Los Angeles; October 29—California at Los Angeles; November 12—Colorado at Los Angeles; November 19—Washington State at Los Angeles; November 26—Notre Dame at Chicago; December 3—Washington at Los Angeles.

Cravath, Kaer
To Attend Grid
Feed At Orange

Three stars of the University of Southern California's football team will appear tonight at the annual banquet tendered the Orange high school gridgers, according to Coach Stewart White.

Inspirational talks will be made by Morton Kaer, All-American halfback, "Jeff" Cravath, former Santa Ana high school player and acclaimed by many as an All-American center, and Morley Drury, captain-elect of the "Thundering Herd."

OLIVER ASSUMES CHARGE OF HIGH SCHOOL COURT SQUAD;
SIEGEL LONE VETERAN BACK

With football season definitely concluded, Coach "Tex" Oliver today assumed charge of the Santa Ana high school basketball squad, facing anything but a rosy outlook for a championship quintette but with better prospects than he saw ahead of him in the early weeks of the now deceased gridiron campaign.

With the exception of Chet Siegel, center, who will be ineligible after February 1, not a single letter man will report to Oliver.

Several experienced hoopers from other states are seeking places on the varsity, however, as well as a number of last year's substitutes so Oliver has hopes of developing an able squad.

A tall fellow by the name of Paul Jones from Kansas plays forward. Another new player is James Gill, a sophomore, played center at Okmulgee, Okla. Four football men, all with more or less basket-shooting ability, are on the squad. John Casey, Charles Ehrhorn, Judson Riley and Siegel are among these. Other candidates include Manley Moffat, Eric T. and Julius Borden, forwards; Warren Sullivan, William Dugger, guards; and Irwin Singer, Ray Lancaster, Erick Reineau, Wallace Grebe and J. Secrest.

During the Christmas holidays, Andrews gymnasium is to be open during regulated hours for the basketball players, Walter Scott, physical education supervisor, announced today. Coaches will not be at the gymnasium during the holidays and no tutoring of teams will be undertaken but the players will have the free use of the floor for the practice of dribbling and basket shooting.

The hours that the gymnasium will be open will be from 10 o'clock to 11:30 o'clock in the morning and from 2 o'clock to 3:30 o'clock.

During the season, Coach Oliver is to have charge of both the Class A and the Class C teams with Coach Lynn Crawford as an assistant. Intensive practice to mould the team for the sharp competition in the Coast Preparatory league will begin the first day after the opening of school next year.

JUNIOR COLLEGIANS
IN ACTION TONIGHT

Two fast, aggressive cage squads will battle here tonight when Coach Walter Scott's Santa Ana junior college five and the California Christian college team clash at 8 o'clock on the floor of Andrews' gymnasium.

The game will be the last that the local college will play until after the Christmas holidays. Then, in the first week after school reopens, the conference schedule will be launched.

'Old Showman' Fitting Comiskey Title
Eddie Collins Latest To Pay Penalty

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The baseball world knows Charles A. Comiskey, the owner of the Chicago White Sox as the "Old Roman." The kindly imagination of some friendly scribbler coined the name of "Old Roman," and it has stuck, though without significance.

Ball players who have toiled under Comiskey insist that the proper title for the gentleman in question would be the "Old Showman."

According to the athletes, Comiskey will willingly spend 10 dollars any time there is a possibility of getting 100 in return.

There may be some sentiment in baseball but not in Comiskey.

Eddie Collins, one of the greatest players that ever wore a spiked shoe, is the latest White Sox star to pay the penalty of old age and true loyalty.

Collins, who has already proved his ability as a manager, in days when real leaders are scarce, gets the gate at a time when it seems there is little or no chance for him to land another managerial berth. Collins, who has made several hundred thousand simoleons for Comiskey, is cut loose because it doesn't seem as if he would be able to play regularly and thereby earn the salary he insists upon.

Babe Ruth may have built the Yankee stadium, but there is no getting away from the fact that Ed Walsh supplied everything but the green paint for the seats in the building of the White Sox park in Chicago.

"Ed Walsh can remain with the White Sox just as long as he cares to stay in baseball," is a remark that has been credited to the White Sox owner, when Ed was pitching about 60 games a year and winning pennants for Chicago.

Walsh hasn't been with Chicago for years. He even took a whirl at umpiring in an effort to stick in the big show. He became excessive baggage when he could no longer win ball games.

When Fielder Jones, as manager of the White Sox, at the top of his career, demanded a piece of stock if he was to continue, the nothing doing sign was hung out

ERB'S VANDALS LOOK GOOD FOR 1927 CAMPAIGN

(Herewith is the last of the series of articles dealing with next season's football prospects at Pacific Coast conference schools.—Sport Editor's note.)

MOSCOW, Ida., Dec. 16.—Charley Erb, coach at University of Idaho, will probably be dreaming all winter of his Vandals cleaning up the far western football world in 1927. Erb has admitted as much.

He followed his convictions at the recent Pacific coast conference meeting at Los Angeles when he expressed his willingness to meet California, Stanford, U. S. C., or any other conference team.

Erb sums up his situation at the start of next season as follows: "My freshman backs coming up to the varsity team next season are a finer set than the four who reported to Andy Smith and around whom that master coach constructed the first California 'wonder team' in 1919."

"From the freshman team I will get a 225-pound Bohemian, named Kashishnik," Erb said. "I can't say much for the name itself, but that youngster will be to Idaho what Ernie Nevers was to Stanford."

"My present varsity is a young man team. I lose only two men, Owens, captain and fullback, and Bliss, center, two very fine players. The rest of my team will be back with a year's additional experience and I'm bound to develop a couple of outstanding coast stars from that flock of broil."

"My men stopped Billy Kelly of Montana, Maple and Luby of Oregon Aggies, and Meeker of Washington this season. They whipped the powerful Creighton Bulldogs of Omaha in an inter-sectional tilt and they will do more next season."

Erb is well liked at Moscow. The season just closed was his first with the Idaho institution and students and faculty are pleased with his showing in this brief period.

The first inter-sectional football game played at Pasadena in connection with the Tournament of Roses took place January 1, 1927, when Fielding Yost led his Michigan gridiron warriors to victory over Stanford by a score of 49 to 0.

SUZANNE'S RIVAL

MARY BROWNE

Southern California's own Mary Browne is now the tennis playmate of the temperamental French queen, Suzanne Lenglen, and shortly will be seen opposite her in a match in Los Angeles. Miss Browne has been forcing Mile. Lenglen to the limit in recent matches.

LANDIS NAMED
BASEBALL HEAD
BY 2 LEAGUES

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—The joint meeting of the American and National leagues opened here today with the re-election of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis to the office high commissioner of baseball the principal topic schedule for discussion.

In some quarters it was regarded as almost certain that Landis would be returned in his present position for another seven years, possibly at an increased salary. But the action taken yesterday at the American League meeting when Ban Johnson, president of the junior circuit, was restored to the advisory council, caused some to doubt that today's discussion will be harmonious.

Landis' failure to call on the advisory council for help is thought to have been the cause of the American dissent.

The bone of contention today seemed to center around whether or not the commissioner will be willing to work with the advisory council in solving the problems of the league.

YEARLINGS WIN
COLLEGE MEET
BY BIG MARGIN

When the final events of the interclass meet had been run at the Poly oval yesterday, the freshmen had romped away with the honors, winning from the sophomores by a 36 to 36 score.

The college trackmen, under orders from Coach Graham Harris, laid aside their track suits today until after the Christmas holidays.

High point man for the two day meet was Lon McIntire, Tustin sprinter. He won first places in the 175 yard dash and in the 600 yard run and a second in the 75 yard dash besides running in the relay. Kenny Schroll, sophomore, was second high with 13 points.

No remarkable performances were made by the Santa Ana trackmen in yesterday's events although Aubrey Reinhardt set a good mark in the discus when he tossed the platter 111 feet.

Coach Harris plans to hold a second interclass meet early in February at the time the track season opens. The sophomores will then have chance to get even with the freshmen for the decisive victory scored in this mid-winter meet.

The results:
Broad jump—Rozelle (F) won; Trickey (F) second; Reinhardt (F) third. Distance—18 feet.
Javelin throw—Schroll (S) won; Rogers (F) second; Gris (S) third. Distance—122 feet.
600 yard run—McIntire (F) won; Schroll (S) second; Gris (S) third. Time—1 min. 33 sec.
Discus—Reinhardt (F) won; Fessman (F) and Rogers (F) tied for second. Distance—111 feet.
Relay won by the freshmen team composed of Stewart, Trickey, McIntire and Rozelle. Time—52 sec.

LATHROP QUINTETTE
WINS FROM TUSTIN

Coach Ferris Scott's Julia C. Lathrop junior high school basketball team, playing its second game of the 1926-27 season, defeated the Tustin high school Class C quintette, 23 to 15, at Tustin yesterday.

Scott now has his men divided into four squads—seniors, intermediates, juniors and midgets, so as to permit each man to compete with men of his own size and age. The seniors will meet class B and C teams from the senior high schools while the other three teams will compete with seventh and eighth grade grammar school aggregations. There also will be a sort of an unofficial league formed between the two local junior high schools and the two Pomona junior high schools.

The lineup:
Tustin Guard..... Lathrop
Watkins Guard..... Hunter
Cheney Guard..... Pratt
Reynolds Center..... Vance
Cooper Forward..... Gasper
Condra Forward..... Barnett

In the days when John L. Sullivan was still the idol of the pugilistic world some clever schemers had a perfect imitation made of the famous $10,000 belt presented to him by Boston admirers. The belt was made of imitation gold and jewels and though it cost $1000 these chameleons cleaned up a neat little fortune exhibiting it through the country as the real $10,000 belt.

DODIE BLEWETT

Among the 100 or more contestants who will attempt to swim the Catalina channel for William Wrigley's purse will be Miss Dodie Blewett, talented Los Angeles mermaid.

The displacing of seven major league managers since the close of the season is furnishing gossip a plenty for baseball fans this winter.

LONG BEACH'S FIRST FEE FOR LOCAL OUTFITS

Basketball Race Will Open
January 14; First Meet
Is Set for February 26

Track and field championships in the Coast Preparatory league will be determined this spring by dual meet percentages rather than in one all-league competition, according to a decision reached by representatives from Santa Ana, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Glendale, Long Beach, Whittier and San Diego, in session at Whittier, yesterday.

The usual league meet will be held this year at Glendale, and athletes must place to be eligible for the annual Southern California interscholastic classic but the winning aggregation will not be necessarily league champion.

Track season will begin February 26 and the schedule will be the same, as to places, as the football schedule. Thus, Santa Ana will go against Long Beach at Long Beach in the first affair of the season. Basketball season will get under way officially Friday afternoon, January 14, the schedule for this sport being the reverse, as to places, of the football games. Santa Ana will play Long Beach here.

Games between Class C (110-pound) team will precede the varsity basketball matches, the curtain-raiser, beginning at 3:30 p. m. Class B (130-pound) contests will be played Thursday afternoons, the Class B schedule being the reverse of the varsity.

The league took no action on a baseball schedule, delaying this until Monday, January 24 when another meeting of representatives will be held at San Diego.

President Harry J. More's much condemned tie play-off football "system" was discussed but only informally and no steps were taken to wipe it off the books, the league evidently preferring to consider it at a later time.

Sharkey Kayoes
Smith In Seventh

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 16.—Jack Sharkey of Boston kept in training for the match he hopes to obtain with Gene Tunney, world champion, by pounding Homer Smith, of Kalamazoo, Mich., for seven rounds last night.

Sharkey today was credited with a technical K. O. over Smith, who was severely beaten in the first six rounds and quit in the seventh.

OLIVE GROWERS HEARING ENDED BY COMMISSION

FRESNO, Dec. 16.—The state corporation commission hearing, to determine whether the California Olive Growers, Inc., has been unfair, unjust and inequitable in its plan of business ended here yesterday, after the report of state corporation department auditors from a 10-day survey of the company's books had been entered as evidence.

After the case had been submitted, C. J. McMillan, state corporation commissioner, indicated a decision might be expected in 10 days or two weeks.

The report of the corporation department auditors showed $46,973 pounds of olives received by the company were not accounted for in the books.

Differs from Auditors' Report
The report differed from that of olive company auditors, in that it did not include 200,000 pounds, which C. E. Welkert, general manager of the company, claims is stored at Visalia, 300,000 pounds, which the company contends was shipped to packing houses and necessarily dumped, and 450,000 pounds dumped by the company as waste, according to company witnesses.

The report was given on rebuttal testimony by the commission and differed greatly from the first report of the corporation department auditors, which showed approximately five million pounds unaccounted for. The difference in the two reports was that "additional information was opened up" for the corporation department auditors on the second audit, John Cummings, chief corporation department auditor, testified.

The olive company, in closing its case, called Frank Simons, Los Angeles, secretary and general manager of the Simlar Packing company.

Testifies On Grading Loss
Simons testified that loss in grading, due to imperfect and undersized olives, amounted to approximately 20 to 25 per cent and loss in packing, due to imperfect or soft olives, averaged 7 to 11 per cent, making a total loss of approximately 30 per cent. On cross-examination, he admitted that 20 per cent of this 30 per cent could be used by pressing the olives into olive oil.

The hearing started here November 30. The principal points brought out, which must be determined by the commission, are whether the olive company misrepresented the amount of available olive acreage at the time of its organization, whether the books of the company failed to show all the olives disposed of, whether subscriptions in the company were taken in illegal manner and whether grower members have been able to determine the situation of the company since its organization, in 1922.

HOME SHORTAGE IN ENGLAND OVERCOME

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The building of 195,895 new homes during the year ending Sept. 30, 1926, has done much to overcome the housing shortage caused in England and Wales by the war.

In the last four years there has been an annual increase of 25 per cent in the number of houses built, and in another three years it is anticipated that the deficit will have been wiped out and the supply equal to the demand.

Neville Chamberlain, minister of health, estimates that Britain requires a yearly supply of 100,000 houses to meet the increase in population and make good losses due to houses falling out of use through age and demolition.

He is now concentrating on the erection of small, two-story dwellings, each floor consisting of three rooms, bathroom and kitchenette, which he hopes can be rented for as little as $1.50 per week.

Pale Eggs Bring Best Prices On Eastern Market

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—Pale eggs for pale people, so to speak, has become the slogan of poultry ranchers throughout the state, due to discovery that faded appetites of New Yorkers and residents of other eastern centers respond to "blonde" colored yolks and have temperamentally taken a dislike to those with rich yellow centers.

Consequently, the diets of California hens, a large portion of whose products are distributed in the east, are being watched with all the care of that of a modern infant. A delicately balanced ration with just that proper amount of starches, carbohydrates and vitamins has crept into the barnyard.

Miss Sylvia Parker, University of California poultry expert, who has broken some 20,000 eggs to find out what they looked like inside, is working out color charts which will make it possible for California poultry men to cater to the latest modern taste in colors.

Vitamins are said to play an important role in the color of egg yolks. These have been furnished to California hens in greens and its yellow corn from the middle west in the past, but experts here have discovered a more desirable yolk tint is furnished by alfalfa.

Anything to tickle the palate of the languid business man who prefers blondes in eggs, to say nothing of ladies. So western poultrymen are out for pale eggs.

LOCAL ANAESTHETIC USED ON PATIENTS

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 16.—Dentists have launched into the field of "local anaesthetics" to distract the minds of the patients from the work the dentist is doing.

Perhaps it was some barber who tipped a dentist off on this method of keeping a patient's mind on something else, at any rate the doctors are becoming expert conversationalists.

One dentist in particular, Dr. Lynval Davidson, is noted for his versatility of conversation. If the patient is interested in music, this dentist can carry on a very interesting discussion, as he has studied voice, plays the piano and the violin. If the patient is interested in taxidermy, he will find the dentist has a diploma in this field; art elicits the information that the dentist has made a study of water colors, ceramics, oil and statuettes in bronze, wood and plaster.

If the patient is an amateur gardener, the doctor can give him some pointers as he has 75 rare plants; collectors find he has several rare Oriental rugs and a large collection of china.

Of course, Dr. Davidson is an exception, but a survey showed that a number of the dentists have been "brushing up" on many topics in order to be able to talk intelligently—or perhaps to talk the patient to sleep—on many subjects while carrying on their work.

SENTENCE MEXICAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, Eliseo Saldana, 1915 West Third street, was found guilty in police court, yesterday, and given a fine of $500, with an alternative of spending 150 days in the county jail. Unable to pay the fine, the man was locked up in the county jail.

Saldana was arrested Tuesday night when city police officers raided his home, finding 40 pints of beer and a gallon of whiskey in a house at the rear of the property. A charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor, filed against Saldana at the time of his arrest, was dismissed by Judge Talbott.

KATE BREW VAUGHN'S RECIPE for

CREAM PUFFS

1 Cup Boiling Water
1/2 Cup Snowdrift
1/2 Teaspoon Salt
1 Cup Flour
4 Eggs

Put water and Snowdrift in saucepan, when it comes to boiling point add flour all at one time and stir and beat until it leaves the sides of pan. Remove from stove and add one at a time the eggs, beating in each egg well before adding the next. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake from 35 to 45 minutes, according to size, in oven 500 degrees F. for the first five minutes, reducing about 50 degrees at a time every five minutes, until when they begin to brown the temperature is 350 degrees F. When the puff leaves the greased baking sheet easily, they are done and should be cooled on a rack with a circulation of air all about. When cold, fill with whipped cream.

YULE PAGEANT WILL BE GIVEN BY METHODISTS

A Christmas pageant will be given Sunday evening, at the Methodist church, by members of the choir and Sunday school. The pageant gives an instructive and elaborate presentation of the Nativity. The first scene is a prologue, in which St. John reads the opening paragraph to his gospel and the Angel Gabriel is heard singing the message. Accompanying him are the Angels of Time, Place, Joy, Song, Peace and Prophecy.

Other scenes show Zacharias in the temple, the home of Mary and the Annunciation, the Adoration, the house of Zacharias, where Mary sings the Magnificat, the house of Joseph at Nazareth, the shepherds in the fields and their visit to Bethlehem, the Wise Men and their search for the Holy Child, and the Heavenly Host singing the hymn of praise.

Beautiful lighting effects have been devised and the pageant bids fair to be the most beautiful in character and effect. It is being directed by Mrs. Estelle Beeman and the music by Mrs. Hulda Deitz.

Thirty-five characters are represented in the pageant and a singing chorus of 30 voices. The pageant will begin at 7:15 o'clock, Sunday evening.

GERWING DEALT HARD BLOW AS THEATER BURNS

Santa Claus had an overwhelming wallop instead of the expected pleasant gift for George Gerwing, recently appointed director of Santa Ana Community Players, when he was to present his holiday offering, "The Adding Machine," burned down just four days before the opening night, Tuesday. Scenery, equipment and costumes of the play also were destroyed.

Equipment for "The Adding Machine" was expensive and had entailed weeks of labor on the part of scenery men. Costumes, too, were expensive and complicated. However, undeterred by the misfortune, Gerwing secured the City club auditorium, put his men at work day and night on new scenery and gave the first performance Tuesday night, according to schedule. However, the original plan to present the play for four nights was changed and it was given on only two nights.

During his stay in San Francisco, Gerwing has directed in half a dozen various groups, including Community Players of San Francisco, Cap and Bells and others. He will arrive in Santa Ana on Christmas eve and immediately will assume his position as director of the Santa Ana Community Players, and it is anticipated that announcement of the first play of the series of four will be made almost immediately.

NEW CITY OFFICE AND TRAVEL BUREAU OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC OPENED IN SANTA ANA

With the opening, yesterday, of the Southern Pacific company's downtown ticket office, at the northeast corner of Fourth and Broadway, Santa Ana assumed a new position of prominence and importance on the lines of the big railroad company. A view of the front of the office is shown here. Standing at the door is W. A. Huff (left), owner of the building in which the office is located, who is presenting keys to the office to L. B. Valla (right), district freight and passenger agent here. George A. Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, on the extreme left of the group, is casting a critical eye over the exterior decorations of the building, while Mayor F. L. Purinton, on the extreme right, is pointing to a sign of the Southern Pacific lines that is familiar to millions of people throughout the nation.

DOG ADOPTS FLOCK OF BABY TURKEYS

SPOKANE, Wn., Dec. 16.—Many animal mothers, when deprived of their young, have adopted the offspring of another species, but the strangest case of this sort on record in the Pacific northwest is the act of a female pointer dog stealing a flock of baby turkeys.

The mother dog had 14 puppies, which were taken from her and killed. About the same time a turkey hen, owned by the dog's master, hatched 10 sturdy youngsters. The dog chased the hen away and appropriated the entire brood.

When the theft was discovered, the dog had nine of the turkeys carefully huddled about her and the tenth was reclining between her paws. She was scrubbing the turkey chick with her tongue.

The "Gift Corner" will be open evenings until Christmas—Win-

Company Officers Guests at Informal Reception in New Headquarters

With an informal reception, which continued throughout the day, the Santa Ana city office and travel bureau of the Southern Pacific was opened for business yesterday at 223 West Fourth street, at the corner of Broadway.

The new office is one of the best appointed and most modern of any city railroad office in Southern California, in the opinion of railroad officers, who visited Santa Ana for the opening. It was designed with the view of giving the utmost efficiency and service to the people of Santa Ana in all transportation matters.

Many floral offerings were presented at L. B. Valla, district freight and passenger agent, by Santa Ana business houses, in honor of Santa Ana's newest business office and these added to the attractiveness of the large corner room now comprising Southern Pacific headquarters in Orange county.

The doors of the new railroad offices formally were opened in the morning with brief ceremonies, during which W. A. Huff, owner of the building, presented keys to the office door to District Agent Valla, in the presence of Mayor F. L.
Purinton and Secretary George A.
Raymer, of the chamber of commerce.

Visiting Southern Pacific officers included C. L. McFaul, assistant passenger traffic manager; F.
E. Scott, assistant freight traffic manager; G. J. Blech, general freight agent; F. E. Watson, general passenger agent; Joseph Hellen, assistant general passenger agent, and T. F. Fitzgerald, general traveling passenger agent.

Commenting on the purpose of the new office, McFaul said:

"We have for a long time recognized the growing importance of Santa Ana and Orange county and this new office is the symbol of that recognition. Santa Ana and its environs, long known as one of the richest and most prosperous of the territories along our railroad in horticulture, agriculture and manufacturing, is, we believe, only on the threshold of what will eventually be a still greater prosperity."

"Santa Ana has reached that place as the metropolitan center of this rich territory where she is entitled to the service of a first class, up-to-date travel bureau and ticket office, manned by efficient men, who know their business and who take pride in serving the public pleasantly and well. The men in the new office are prepared to furnish complete information regarding trips to any place in the world. Men who have a personal and friendly interest in Santa Ana and Orange county residents will plan itineraries for them, secure railroad or steamship reservations and sell tickets right here at home."

"The rapidly growing freight business from and to this territory has created a demand for an office where complete information may be secured on freight matters, either domestic or foreign, export or import, without the expense and annoyance of long distance telephone. In the new office, freight rate information and everything pertaining to the movement of commodities may be secured. Export bills of lading may be obtained; arrangement may be made for importing and passing through the customs of freight via Southern Pacific lines."

"The facilities in every department are complete and we welcome an opportunity to serve residents in this territory."

District Agent Valla is assisted in the new office by E. B. Sharpley, traveling agent; E. W. Sala, city ticket agent; W. L. Somerby, ticket clerk, and E. A. Witt, stenographer-secretary.

The neat appearance of the office, the complement of equipment and the arrangement were commented on yesterday and today by many Santa Anans, who called to pay their respects to the officials in charge and compliment the company on its enterprise in providing for Santa Ana, such an up-to-date city ticket office.

ACTORS' FARE PAID WITH LOAD OF COAL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 16.—
Tales of how stranded actors traded their "props" and baggage to station agents for tickets to the next town are outdone by a resourceful theatrical manager of Rio, who furnished fuel for the engine when he wanted his troupe moved from Rio to Sao Paulo.

The coal crisis had cut service on the Central Brazil railway to a minimum. The manager knew that a load of coal would be as welcome to railroad officials as a crowd before the ticket window in normal times. He located five tons of coal, arranged to have it delivered on the day he wanted to move the company to Sao Paulo, and paid the passage in coal for the troupe and all the company's equipment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The land of the Yukon, fabled in song and story, has turned from the romantic pastime of seeking elusive fortunes in gold to the more commercial business of fishing, it is revealed in the report of the government filed with the interior department.

Fisheries products during 1925, totalled $40,038,000 while the Alaskan mines produced $18,220,000 worth of minerals. The Alaskan fisheries industry has more than $67,000,000 invested in equipment, the report shows.

ACCIDENT BODY FOR MONOPOLY ON STATE FUND

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16 — The outstanding feature of the annual report of the industrial accident commission, just filed with Governor Richardson, is the recommendation by the commission that the state compensation insurance fund be given a monopoly in writing workmen's compensation insurance in California. Due to legislative inhibitions, the commission says an impasse has been reached in workmen's compensation legislation, and the only hope for future progress lies in an exclusive state fund, which will, it is declared, "turn downward the present upward trend of compensation insurance rates and, at the same time, by reason of the elimination of the waste that is characteristic of the competitive insurance-selling system, produce such additional revenues as may be needed to provide substantial additional benefits to both employer and employee."

Refunds to Policy Holders
The accomplishments of the fund during the 12 years of its existence have been such as to inspire the absolute confidence of the insuring public. The fund has more than justified its existence. Despite its restriction to a competitive field, it has been more than self-supporting. It has written insurance at competitive rates and has returned to its policy holders refunds that have, for several years averaged 30 per cent of the premium originally paid. These refunds aggregate over $11,000,000. The fund has paid into the accident prevention fund a total of $829,986.50, such payments being in lieu of, and comparable to, tax payments made annually to the state by commercial insurance carriers. In addition, it has built up a reserve fund for the possible rainy day in excess of $2,000,000. In view of this record, the commission feels that it is entirely reasonable to propose that the fund be stripped of its competitive chains and that it be given a monopoly of workmen's compensation coverage in this state.

Six States Have Monopoly
Six states now have monopolistic state funds—Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Wyoming, North Dakota and Ohio. The commission points to the fact that the California state fund has been from its inception, partly monopolistic in that all the political subdivisions of the state are required to carry their compensation insurance with the state, or self-insure, and declares that it is therefore, only a short step to a completely monopolistic state fund—"the next, logical, forward step toward the ultimate, pre-ordained destiny of the fund."

The report declares it to be the opinion of the commission that, writing 100 per cent of the compensation insurance of the state, the fund "will be in a position to place California in the front rank of all the states in the matter of providing the victims of industry with remedial and restorative relief, with lowered cost to employers; also that the commission would be in a position to more effectively "combat the rising tide of industrial injuries." This result would flow, the commission says, from "the substitution, in all cases, of inspections designed to make industry safe for employment, under full state authority and compulsion, for the thousands of inspections now being made privately for rate-making, premium-reducing purposes."

Police News

James O'Brien, 1002 West Sixth street, reported to police last night that a spare tire and rim were stolen from his automobile, while it was parked near Sixth and Broadway.

Charged with vagrancy, J. W. White, 25, was arrested last night by James Murray, city officer. The man was found asleep in a box car, according to a police report.

A spare tire was stolen from the automobile of H. O. Russell, 553 North Harvard street, Orange, while the machine was parked on Bush street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, last night, according to a report to police.

Charged with being drunk, Fred L. Keith, Santa Ana, was fined $25 in police court yesterday.

Marriage Proposal By Radio Accepted

CLEVELAND, Dec. 16.—At a radio convention held in this city, recently, the operator of an amateur transmitting station installed at the convention headquarters for the purpose of relaying free messages for the delegates was much surprised on glancing over one of the messages to notice that it was a proposal of marriage to a young lady in a nearby city. After being assured by the sender that the message was genuine and in good faith, the operator sent it off, not expecting to hear any more from it. It was therefore something of a shock to receive the next day a message from the young lady stating that the proposal was accepted.

ALBERT DEWEY GAINES HELD TO SUPERIOR COURT AFTER HEARING BEFORE MORRISON

Albert Dewey Gaines must stand trial for the alleged murder of Joseph J. Patterson. A hard fight by defense lawyers to secure dismissal of the charge, late yesterday, failed when Justice Kenneth E. Morrison ordered Gaines held to answer on the charge.

The court refused to be moved. Halverson with his argument, told even by a veiled threat that the release of Gaines would be sought by writ of habeas corpus if he was not released at the hearing yesterday. This was included in the forensic fireworks loosed in the courtroom by George Halverson and O. A. Jacobs, counsel for Gaines. But Justice Morrison decreed that the "Utah cowboy," co-defendant of "Phil" Goodwin, must run the gauntlet of a superior court jury. After the hearing, the Gaines attorneys refused to affirm their intention of seeking a writ of habeas corpus.

Arguments of No Avail

Halverson and Jacobs employed every resource of argument to free their man without a trial. They pointed out that the story told by Gaines himself was absolutely the only evidence linking him to the Patterson case. If his story was believed by the court, then he must be deemed innocent of the murder, they held. And if the court refused to believe Gaines' testimony and tossed it aside, then there was not a shred of evidence linking Gaines to the crime, they argued. Either way, they contended, there was no ground for holding Gaines to trial. The Gaines story, which convicted his erstwhile pal, Goodwin, the actor-priest, was not an admission of the crime, the attorneys declared. It was an "explanation," they said, showing that the murder of Patterson had been committed by Goodwin and by Goodwin alone. Gaines was offered by the prosecution at the Goodwin trial as a "credible witness," said Halverson. He helped the state to convict Goodwin, and it would not be consistent now, for the district attorney to come into court and say "Gaines is not a credible witness. We convicted Goodwin on testimony that is not to be believed," suggested Halverson, slyly.

Halverson read a section of the penal code, which provides that persons committed to jail without sufficient cause by a magistrate, can be released on a writ of habeas corpus. He declared that there was not probable or sufficient cause to believe Gaines guilty of the murder charge, but he did not directly threaten to invoke habeas corpus proceedings if Gaines was held for trial.

Attorney Jacobs, who preceded

During his argument, Wetlin proceeded to cite evidence that the crime actually had been committed, and that, by his own story, Gaines was subject to suspicion of complicity. Gaines, said Wetlin, had admitted being in the company of Patterson and Goodwin at the time and place of the crime. That was enough, in the prosecutor's opinion, to constitute "probable cause" for believing him guilty.

Argument on Wetlin's motion to hold Gaines for trial opened at 3 p. m., having been deferred at a morning session of court, when all testimony in the case was submitted by stipulation. The stipulated testimony was that offered by the state at the trial of the Rev. Philip A. Goodwin, a few weeks ago, with the exception of evidence directed solely against the priest.

'Probable Cause' Cited
During his argument, Wetlin proceeded to cite evidence that the crime actually had been committed, and that, by his own story, Gaines was subject to suspicion of complicity. Gaines, said Wetlin, had admitted being in the company of Patterson and Goodwin at the time and place of the crime. That was enough, in the prosecutor's opinion, to constitute "probable cause" for believing him guilty.

This Christmas give health

THAN health, there can be no more valuable gift. And when you give an I-ON-A-CO, you are actually giving health. For the I-ON-A-CO has banished illness in literally thousands of instances. Even so-called incurable cases have responded to it. And as it attacks the source of disease, it has proved effective in almost every ailment known to medical science.

Easy to Use

The I-ON-A-CO is based upon the recent discovery of Professor Otto Warburg, which was demonstrated before the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research. Through magnetization, it improves the oxygen-carrying ability of the iron in the body, and thus increases oxidation of waste products in the tissue cells—the source of disease.

Inventor of the I-ON-A-CO

The treatment involves no drugs, no dieting, no exercise nor manipulation. You simply attach the I-ON-A-CO to an electric light socket, then place it about the shoulders or around the waist—without removing the clothing.

There is no shock, no discomfort of any kind. On the contrary, the treatment—which takes about ten minutes—is delightful.

Used in the Home

The whole family can enjoy the benefits of the I-ON-A-CO. It is used right in your home—or in your office. Get the entire story of this marvelous invention which has revealed a short cut to health. Call at our office, or at the office of one of our distributors. Or, if you cannot call, telephone, and a representative will give you a Free Demonstration in your home office.

Free Book

If you live out of town, send for our interesting book, which gives complete details. The coupon brings a free copy. Mail it today.

Give an I-ON-A-CO for Christmas—and give health. It's a gift that will be appreciated every day in the year, by every member of the family.

THE PICTURE STORY OF 1926

Sketches By Kroesen
Synopsis By Braucher

March 18—Colonel John Coolidge, father of the president, died at his home at Plymouth, Vt., in his 81st year.

April 1—By a vote of 306 to 62 the House impeached Federal Judge C. W. English of Illinois on charges of corruption.

April 4—Abd-el-Krim, leader of the Rifians, resumed offensive with attacks on French outposts in Morocco.

April 5—Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit and murderer, was hanged at the Wethersfield State Prison, in Connecticut.

THE TINYMITES
BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The walking doll was taken back and put upon the high doll rack. Then Santa Claus came in and said "We'd best be on our way. You've seen the dolls enough to know why little girls all love them so. Let's go to where the kiddie cars are made, and spend the day."

Of course this pleased each Tiny-mite, and several of them said, "All right, we're glad to go where ever you say, 'cause every place is fun." The doll house soon was left behind. They walked a path that seemed to wind around a dozen corners ere the lengthy trip was done.

"Ah, here we are," old Santa cried. "This is the car shop. Step inside." And when the Tinies entered, it was surely heaps of sport. Velocipedes and carts and such. The signs on some said, "Do Not Touch," 'cause they had just been painted with bright hues of every sort.

A little dwarf, with brush in hand, said, "I've been painting something grand. It has three wheels, a handle and can travel fast and far. I'll bet you can't guess what I mean. It's something you have surely seen." Then Clowzy was the first to guess. He said, "A kiddie car."

"You're right," the little dwarf replied. And then the kiddie car was spied. Before they had a chance to touch, the dwarf said, "Goodness knows, you'd better not go near the thing 'cause heaps of sorrow it will bring. The paint's still wet. Be careful now, you'll get it on your clothes."

Then Copsy said, "I'd like to ride a little kiddie car outside. I've never really been on one. I'll bet it's heaps of fun." "Why, bless your heart," old Santa said, "Pick one that's dry. Go right ahead." Of course this pleased wee Copsy. 'Twas no sooner said than done.

(To Be Continued)

BEAUTY CHATS
BY KENT FORBES

A CURED GOLFER

If your arms are not as smooth and white as you would like them to be, these treatments may help!

Daily—rub the elbows thickly with cleansing cream, and let it stay on while you wash your face o. while you are bathing. In this case, the hot water in the tub will wash off a little of the cream before you are ready to treat the arms, but even so, the skin will have time to take up some of the oils in the cream, and to become soft as a result. Then, when you scrub the arms with a flesh brush, you will scrub off cream and a good deal of dirt and grime that all elbows collect.

The scrubbing should be vigorous, and the skin turn red as a result of the friction of the brush. Use a cold cream soap, or castile, or any superfatted, first quality soap. Rinse with hot water, and then with cool. If you have a good hand lotion, either an almond emulsion, or a glycerine and cucumber mixture, or anything to keep the hands smooth and free of redness or chapping, use a little of this on the elbows and then dry and powder.

This daily treatment can be used when you dress for the evening, and find that your arms or elbows do not look well enough for a sleeveless evening gown. It is a good temporary treatment, but given daily, it will make the skin of the arms fine, and do away with red pimples and white "gooseflesh" and such blemishes. A once-a-week treatment to bleach the skin is as follows. Take ordinary lump laundry starch, dissolve a couple of pieces in enough cold water to make a paste like thick cream, and rub this over the arms. Rub it well into the skin and let it dry on. It should stay half an hour, if possible, for the longer it stays the more it will bleach. Then rinse it off with warm water and use cream just on the elbows.

Sylvia B.—Your oily skin comes from digestive troubles of some kind. Try eating more fruit, especially acid fruit taken a full hour before a meal. Very cold water as a fast rinse after bathing face, or an ice rub, will help to tone the action of the glands in the skin. Omit the rouge, and use plain rice powder, and any fine grade of soap.

Betty Ann.—Massage your scalp every day until it glows from the increased circulation and your hair will grow much faster, with new hair coming in all the time. Esther J. K.—You can keep down the expense of the chiropodist if you use a sanitary file on your corns every time they grow to any size. You may be able to go for six months without professional services if you use one of these files regularly.

Tomorrow—Hair Tonics

If you want to be lucky at Christmas and during the ensuing year, the superstitious will tell you that, should you happen to tear a garment, don't have it mended until next day, as sewing on Christmas Day is sure to bring bad luck.

Steam or mechanical laundries are unknown in Mexico, where virtually all laundry work is still done by hand by women of the poorer classes.

Menus for the Family

By SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Halves of grape fruit, country sausage, raised buckwheat cakes, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Navy bean and tomato soup, toasted brown bread, lettuce and bacon sandwiches, baked apples, milk, tea.

DINNER—New England salt cod fish dinner, beet salad, apricot cream pie, corn bread, milk, coffee. If small children must be served breakfast orange juice or stewed fruit and a cereal should be provided for them.

The salt fish dinner suggested is a particularly happy choice to serve between Thanksgiving and Christmas or Christmas and New Year. The clever housewife sees to it that her feast days are not dimmed by similar meals before the gala occasion. If the family is "fed up" on fowl, the Christmas goose will lose much of its charm. You may want to serve "apricot cream pie" and coffee to your afternoon bridge club.

Two-egg hot water sponge cake, 1-2 pound dried apricots, 2 oranges, 1-4 cups granulated sugar, 1-2 cups cold water, 1 cup whipping cream, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 cup shredded almonds.

Wash apricots through many waters. Let stand for an hour in lukewarm water to thoroughly cover, drain and rinse. Cover with cold water and let stand over night. In the morning cook in the same water until tender. Rub through a sieve. Squeeze juice from oranges and cook orange shells until tender. Scrape as much of the white part from the yellow rind as possible and cut the rind in shreds. Add rind, juice and sugar to apricot puree and cook, stirring to prevent sticking until mixture thickens when a spoonful is tried on a cold saucer. Split sponge cake and put together with the apricot marmalade. Cover top with marmalade and mask the whole cake with cream whipped, sweetened with powdered sugar and flavored with vanilla. Sprinkle with almonds which have been browned in a moderately hot oven. (Copyright 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Girls in Japan are from a very early age systematically instructed in physical exercise, with the result that at maturity they are almost as strong as the men. It is not an unusual sight to see a company of young girls, who are strolling along a country road, step back a few yards for headway, and then, following a leader, all nimbly clear a five-foot fence by leaping over it.

A business men's club in Sturgis, Mich., has decreed that any member who has not raised a mouse-tache by December 13 shall be fined and the funds used to buy Christmas presents for the poor.

WHITE ARMS

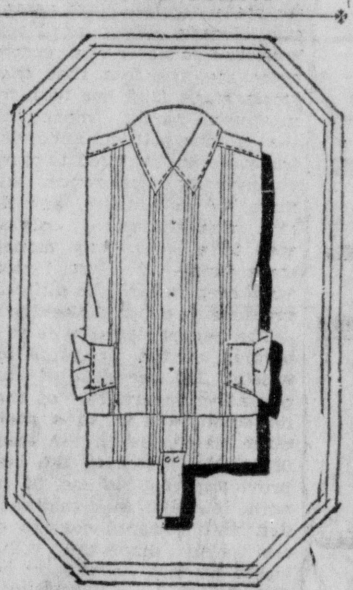

Time was I played in rain or snow, The mercury at two below And thought it pleasure, too; So much I loved the ancient game I'd venture out with eyes aflame My father round to do. Let blizzards blow or thunders roll I'd struggle towards the eighteenth hole.

In flannel shirt and leather coat, A woolen muffler round my throat And rubber boots I'd play, And frozen through or dripping wet I'd trudge around the course and get A certain thrill that way. I laughed at rain or sleet or snow, But that was several years ago.

Out on the course I still behold Stray golfers shivering with cold Beneath a wintry sky, And standing at my window pane I watch the pelted sleet and rain As those brave souls go by. Then to myself I chuckle low, "I gave that up long years ago!"

Let youthful novices go out With beating hearts and courage stout To battle wind and rain, I'll play my golf 'neath skies ablaze On warm and gentle summer days. But I'm no weather vane, No pleasure from the game I get When frozen stiff or dripping wet.

Loved by Many,
She Loved But OneFamous Sorel Now
Declares Artiste
Should WedBy VIRGINIA SWAIN
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—"Only the one love—though you must wait for it 'till you are old. Paradise for a woman is to be loved by many, but to love only one!"

So says Mile. Cecil Sorel, famous actress of the Comedie Francaise, now playing in New York. Sorel should know. For thirty years she has been "La Grande Coquette" of all Europe. For years—or more, for she is past 50—the young bloods of Europe have been battering at her heart, statesmen have found counsel in her salon, the wit and the wealth of Paris have paid tribute to her.

And Sorel has smiled and accepted it all, while insisting that she would never marry. "The great artiste—she has no right to marry," she declared.

But along came Count Guillaume de Segur, dashing sportsman and scion of old French aristocracy. For years he and Sorel were friends, but all their acquaintances—notably the suitors who had failed—warned him, "It is useless. Sorel will not marry."

Then one fine day last May, Sorel went off with her count to the south of France, and came back a countess.

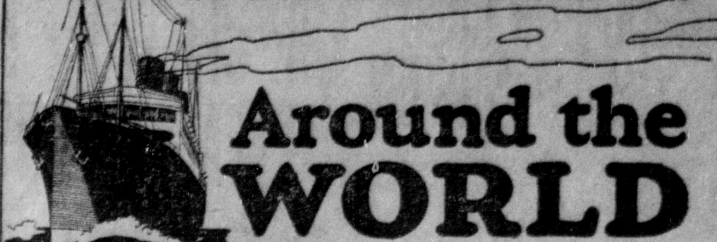

Why did she change her mind? "Because," she says, "I had been all my life looking for the one good thing, and when I found it, I took it. Now I think the great artiste has no right NOT to marry. 'Love stimulates, brightens the wits, inspires genius and makes a woman more beautiful. Without love, life is—a cold potato—flat, savorless.'"

In Paris everybody is asking, "How did Guillaume do it?" But Guillaume is a wise man, and he answers cautiously, "I adore Sorel. I am willing to be put in the shade by her talents. How to be happy with a genius? Much adoration and little emulation—that's the secret."

Mile. Cecil Sorel and Count Guillaume de Segur.

MOLLUSK'S WAR ON ENEMY MAKES PEARLS

Pearls

By ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.

Pearls—from the priceless perfectly matched string down to the cheapest imitation—represent the universal craving for jewels.

Even the savage, biting into his raw clam and hurting his teeth on the hard pearl, could not long resist the loveliness of its luster. We have proof that the pearl was of value at an early period in the fact that pearls have been found in the burial places of ancient man. They have assumed progressively greater importance as civilization advanced.

Many fairy tales existed concerning the origin of the pearl but the production of the jewel is now understood and the former myths shattered. All true pearls are produced by secretions of mollusks. The precious ones come chiefly from the pearl oysters, the fresh water clams, the abalone and in a lesser degree from all the other pearly shelled mollusks.

Pearls, whether of value or without it, are the result of an effort on the part of the mollusk to seal up an enemy or an irritating substance that has found its way inside the shell.

The mollusk to overcome this undesirable parasite attempts to lock it up by secreting a shelly capsule around it, and if successful, it kills the parasite that way.

But having once begun to secrete nares, the shiny substance of the pearly shell, it can't stop and so it pats layer upon layer as thin as an onion skin around this nucleus and thus the pearly continues to grow until the mollusk dies, or some lucky fisherman captures the prize.

The irregular pearls or "baroque" are usually formed about a grain of sand. Perfect shape, size, uniform color and even luster are the criteria that determine the value of the pearl.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

POLITICAL LINES ARE OFF WHEN CAPITAL GOLDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Politics may be the favorite pastime of the national capital, but it has one rival—golf.

Party lines are discarded when golf takes the floor. Witness the old senatorial foursome at the Burning Tree club. It has grown to several foursomes now. It includes cabinet officers, senators, career officers of the government, political lame ducks and folks who are just non-political Washingtonians.

President Harding, a charter member in his senatorial days, sounded the non-political keynote of the weekly gathering of the golf faithful that was to survive him. Soon after his elevation to the White House he hastened out to renew the pleasant associations of golf-and-breakfast with his former senate colleagues at the Burning Tree. Said a fellow stalwart of the G.O.P.:

"Well, Mr. President, let's beat these Democrats."

"Democrats?" said the president. "There are no Democrats here. Just golfers."

Secretary, then Senator, Kellogg was a member of the early golf-and-breakfast group, and still is. He's among the most faithful for his state department duties tie him close to Washington even in campaign years. And he shoots an amazingly good game. Notably a nervous man, the little, white-haired dean of the cabinet, slightly bent of shoulder with much desk work, does not look athletic. But when he draws bead on a golf ball, it's more apt than not to go about where he desires.

It is his present-day lament that while he once shot the best golf in the senate, he has failed thus far to capture the cabinet championship. Dwight Davis, the war secretary, former national tennis champion and donor of the Davis cup, is too young and too husky for him. Davis and Secretary Jardine of the agriculture department are among the golf-and-breakfast devotees as are Senators Hale of Maine, Butler of Massachusetts and Harrison of Mississippi, and former Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska.

They may be politicians, cabinet-makers, senators or what not, at other times, but once a week, they are just golfers—and breakfasters.

SAN DIEGO—A net gain of $1,000,000 in the amount of commodities handled over the port's docks and wharves during the first 10 months of 1926 as compared to the corresponding period last year was revealed in harbor statistics, made public by Harbormaster Joseph Brennan. The total value of foreign and domestic commerce for the first 10 months of this year was $30,762,750 as compared with $29,038,481 for last year. In the actual number of ships arriving and departing only a slight gain was recorded. There were 2246 vessels arriving and sailing during the first 10 months of 1926 as compared to 2291 for the same period this year, a gain of 45 ships.

RIVERSIDE—Riverside has had 485 new telephones added in its exchange since the first of January, a 8.11 per cent gain, it is announced by G. G. Draper, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. At present Riverside has 6465 telephones.

SAN BERNARDINO—The state highway commission has the Arrowhead trail, from Daggett to the Nevada state line, in excellent condition, according to J. W. Cole, county highway commissioner, who is back from an inspection of the work. The rains have greatly facilitated the work and the road is as smooth as a boulevard. Crews are now hauling in gravel in the vicinity of Baker to surface the sand that has proved a difficult problem to handle. The state has an extensive outfit on the job, including three 60-horsepower caterpillars and graders, nine small caterpillars and drags, a power shovel and trucks.

SAN DIEGO—Indicating the increasing population and prosperity of San Diego, the holiday mail rush which is just beginning already shows a 12 per cent increase over last year figures and will easily double this increased figure by Monday, the peak of the rush. This was the statement of J. F. Metcalf, superintendent of mails for the local postoffice. The San Diego postoffice, with a personnel already increased considerably and with all departments and branches in readiness, is better prepared than ever before to care for the tremendous Christmas mail, which has started with such a bang that the postal machine is now running at top speed. E. W. Dort, postmaster said. On Monday, 102,000 letters went through the cancelling machines. For the 24 hours, day and night, 1075 sacks of mail, pouches and outside parcels went out of San Diego. Superintendent Metcalf pointed to this as an evidence of the good start the rush is obtaining.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

38 BOY SCOUT BADES GIVEN AT BEACH MEET

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 16.—Local Boy Scouts received 38 merit badges, one first class award and seven second class badges, at a special court of honor held at the Scout cabin last night. The court was held under the auspices of Roland Dye, county Scout executive, and A. J. Twist, local Scoutmaster.

Wilford MacDonald was awarded the first class Scout badge. Those made second class Scouts were Seymour Daul, Carl Curtis, Harold Gage, Melvin Ross, Harold Walls, Harry Robins and Keith Miller. Merit badges were awarded to five Scouts. Jimmie Van Trees was awarded eight badges, Wilford MacDonald also received eight merit badges. Albert Spencer was presented with six merit badges and Darrel Sabin and George Meurs each received four.

The local Scout troop has been forging ahead rapidly. A membership campaign carried on during the past few weeks has resulted in a number of new Scouts being added to the organization.

40-ACRE BOLSA TRACT IS SOLD

BOLSA, Dec. 16.—The 40 acres belonging to the estate of the Evans brothers, located one mile north of Bolsa on the corner of Seventeenth street, has been sold for subdivision purposes. The sale was made to W. Basse, of Westminster, who is in partnership with another party. It is understood. The property has been in charge of Dr. C. C. Violette, of Garden Grove, who was administrator of the estate.

Federal Officers Assume Charge of Escaped Prisoner

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 16.—Jefferson D. Fox, 20, who escaped from the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, last May, was turned over to Federal authorities at San Pedro yesterday by local officers.

Fox entered the local jail as a prisoner. He was recognized by Chief of Police Jack Tinsley and placed under arrest. After he had been arrested, he admitted that he had escaped from the barracks, where he was serving a one year sentence for desertion.

Rebekah Lodge In Westminster Names Officers

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 16.—At the regular meeting of the Rebekah lodge Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows' hall, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Charles Farr, noble grand; Mrs. R. H. Arnett, vice grand; Mrs. Caroline Harding, recording secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Wardlow, financial secretary; Mrs. Harry Mansperger, treasurer.

After the lodge session, a delightful social time was held down stairs, when Mrs. George Koppenik, of Anaheim, was honored with a miscellaneous shower, in commemoration of her recent marriage to Mr. Koppenik. Before the ceremony, she was Miss Ruby Harding.

ASSESSMENTS FOR HIGHWAY CHANGED

FULLERTON, Dec. 16.—Approval of the assessment rolls for the widening of Valencia drive was held up by the city trustees at a special meeting held Tuesday night. It was decided that a different schedule of assessments would be made as the result of numerous protests which were made and which showed that many inequalities existed in the report originally submitted.

The widening and opening of Valencia drive would provide a main thoroughfare running east and west between Orangefield and Common wealth avenues through the center of Fullerton. Consideration of this project has been before the city "dads" for the past 15 years.

At Tuesday night's meeting, many of the property owners in the section through which the proposed road would pass, appeared and started their protests to the city trustees. Those present and protesting were William Starbuck, Knute Norwag, E. A. Starr, J. H. Daniel, Albert St. Paul and Thomas B. Watson. Other property owners were represented by written protests.

The trustees reappointed the commission consisting of G. W. Finch, R. S. Gregory and S. N. Fuller to equalize the assessments and submit a charged plan to the trustees at a later date.

Christmas Tree In Plaza To Be Lighted Friday

ORANGE, Dec. 16.—H. J. Snow, chairman of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association Christmas tree decoration committee, started decorating a tree this morning with the $300 worth of lights and ornaments used each year by the association together with several new fixtures purchased this season.

Current will flow through the wires and into the decorated lights tomorrow evening if all goes well, according to Snow.

PREPARE MINE IN SILVERADO FOR WORKING

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—The ambitious development program, initiated at the historic Blue Light Silver mine in Silverado canyon last October, when a group of capitalists and mining men leased the property from the present owners, is now in full swing with 35 men busy putting the workings into shape to operate at approximately double its past capacity, Charles Eysenbrod, president of the holding company, announced today.

An expenditure of nearly $50,000 is expected to be made before the preliminary work, now under way, is completed. The mill is being enlarged and new process machinery installed which will double its scope to a capacity of 100 tons of ore a day and level No. 5, a yet undeveloped level, is being opened up ready for actual operations in the near future. Other levels are being cleaned up and placed in shape for the rapid handling of the ore when the plant is ready for operation, he said.

All the men employed have established their homes in cabins located in the vicinity of the mine and the workings now present the appearance of a veritable mining camp.

No ore is being shipped and the point from which shipping will be made, whether McPherson, Olive or Anaheim, has not yet been decided upon by the operators.

To guarantee the commencement of the present operations, the new lessors of the holdings advanced a cash forfeit of $5000 at the signing of the lease and have placed a deposit of $50,000 in a bank to guarantee that at least $5000 will be spent each month in improving the mine equipment and carrying out necessary preliminary development operations.

Child Stealing Charge Against Farmer Dropped

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—Charges of child stealing filed against Sam Haynes, 31-year-old Kansas farmer, in connection with an alleged escape in which he and four Anaheim minors were involved, were dismissed yesterday, when Haynes appeared before City Recorder Eldon W. Stark for his preliminary hearing. The court ruled lack of evidence.

Three Anaheim girls and a boy, all minors, accompanied Haynes on an auto trip to Long Beach which ended up with a flying trip to Calexico and the marriage of two of the young people in that city. Haynes was arrested in Calexico December 6.

The boy and the girl, who were married, both local high school students, have been in the custody of juvenile authorities who have advised the annulment of the marriage.

BOLSA, Dec. 16.—Mrs. Anna Carlson of the Uppersport ranch, visited Miss Uppersport at Bolsa Sunday morning and from there motored into Los Angeles for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner were in Sierra Madre Sunday as the guests of friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Redding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt Jr., of Marysville, are expected to arrive in Bolsa Sunday to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Shutt's sister, Miss Flossie Draper, who will join them at the College of the Pacific, where she is a student.

Tom Radford accompanied his brother-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, of Newport Beach, and a party of their friends, on a motor trip to Camp Baldy last Sunday.

Bolsa school closes Friday evening for the holiday vacation, which will terminate January 3. No Christmas entertainment is planned by the teachers for the closing day.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson spent Monday evening in Bolsa with relatives, accompanying her husband from Newport Beach and returning here while he was attending practice of the Santa Ana band of which he is a member.

Miss Lucille Radford accompanied a sorority sister here from Los Angeles Saturday evening and remaining over-night at home, returned Sunday to resume her studies at University of California, southern branch. Miss Radford comes home next Saturday to spend two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross entertained friends from Santa Cruz in their home Tuesday. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. George Reid and their three children and Mr. Reid's mother.

Lee Ross, who has been ill with measles, is again back in school.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughters, Bessie, Margaret, Myrtle and Dorothy, attended the play "Heads and Tails," given by the staff of the Garden Grove high school, of which the Misses Bessie and Margaret are pupils. The family was accompanied by Mrs. Gardner's mother, Mrs. Sarah Gardner.

MADAME LA RUE HOME, BALBOA, Dec. 16.—Mrs. Eliza Beth Osgood, better known as Madame LaRue, returned yesterday from a three months trip to Nashville, Tenn., where she visited relatives. Mrs. Osgood, owner of the motion picture theater and promoter of Balboa's annual bathing girl parade, made the trip by automobile.

UNITY DECLARED WORLD'S GREATEST NEED BY U. S. C. INSTRUCTOR IN ORANGE TALK

ORANGE, Dec. 16.—Chaos will overwhelm the earth unless people become solid on the idea of world unity, which is the greatest need of the world today, according to Dr. Fredrick W. Roman, of the faculty of the University of Southern California, who addressed the Orange County Teachers' institute in the high school auditorium last night.

That tyrants are gradually assuming control of nations and that the rule of dictators is being looked upon with favor by American people was cited as evidence that chaos is upon the earth.

"When millions can be carried away by such spectacles as the 'Four Square Gospel' and championship prize fights to commemorate the Declaration of Independence, it is evidence that this nation is being carried further than ever toward complete ruin and chaos," Dr. Roman declared.

"Build ideas which are social bonds," pleaded Dr. Roman, "for when human values pass from person to person and from nation to nation, then will chaos be averted."

The speaker was introduced by George C. Shawwood, Orange elementary school superintendent.

Following the lecture of the evening, F. A. Henderson, high school principal, conducted the election for officers of the California Teachers' association, southern section. Results of the election will be announced at a meeting in Los Angeles next Thursday.

Henderson was re-elected unanimously to be representative of the administrative division of Orange county in the southern section council.

It was announced that Dr. Fredrick W. Roman, instructor in the University of California, southern branch, would be the speaker at the next institution meeting on February 16 in the auditorium of the local high school.

Preceding the institute meeting, the elementary teachers gathered in the women's clubhouse for dinner and a social hour.

HOLLY PICKERS TO BE ARRESTED IN ANAHEIM $2372

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—City taxes on 107 pieces of property in Anaheim are listed as delinquent following the closing of the regular collection period, according to announcement today by Miss Helen Craemer, deputy tax collector of this city.

The total amount due from these delinquent taxpayers is $2372 as compared with $2274.37 which was the total amount delinquent at this time last year, Miss Craemer reported.

Total taxes collected this year are $138,723.27 in addition to the $7,901.20 collected by the assessor on unsecured personal property.

Last year, the collector accounted for $137,561.93 and the assessor for $6004.84.

BEACH AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 16.—Mrs. Iris Woodard was last night elected president of the American Legion auxiliary of the Newport Harbor district, at the annual business meeting of the organization.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Gladys Thompson, first vice president; Mrs. Lila Finster, second vice president; Mrs. Helen Wolfe, secretary; Mrs. Fern Boomer, treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn May, chaplain; Mrs. Mayme St. Clair, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Margaret Huddleston, marshal; Mrs. Nellie Long, historian; Mrs. Evelyn Rider, musician; Mrs. Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Delphine Cundiff and Mrs. Edna R. Fink, executive committee; Mrs. Dolphine Cundiff, representative to the county council.

Miss Grace Weston, state committee woman, who recently returned from a national convention, spoke to the members of the auxiliary. About 25 members were present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Margaret Huddleston. Plans for spreading Christmas cheer among needy people were outlined by the Legion women.

Mealy Bug Farm Center Topic At La Habra Tonight

LA HABRA, Dec. 16.—Discussion of the mealy bug problem now engaging the attention of citrus growers all over the county, will be the feature of the La Habra Farm center meeting to be held at the Washington school this evening, beginning at 7:30.

D. W. Tubbs, of the county horticultural commissioner's office, will talk on the citrophilus mealy bug, its menace to the groves, the best methods of control, effects of spraying, whether beneficial or harmful, the preparations made by the county to aid in control of the pest, and will point out what steps should be taken by a grower when he finds the beginning of infestation.

H. I. Morris of La Habra, will speak on the extent of infestation of both mealy bug and Argentine ant in the La Habra section, and the relation of the ant to the mealy bug. General discussion will follow and all who are interested in this important question are invited to be present.

OFFICER PAINTS SIGNS, NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 16.—A paint-up program is in order here. City Motorcycle Officer Harry Riggs has changed his uniform to a pair of coveralls and is busy painting traffic signs all over town. He is doing the painting at this time as traffic at the beach is light.

SCHOOL BOARD OF ANAHEIM IN FOUR-ACRE DEAL

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—Preliminary arrangements that are expected to lead to the purchase by the Anaheim union high school board of four acres of land adjoining the present school campus for further school purposes were made at the regular monthly meeting of the board. Agreement was made with Mrs. J. J. Dwyer for the immediate purchase of two acres of land and for the leasing, in option, of two more acres adjoining. Principal J. A. Claves reported this morning.

This action was taken by the following of a called district meeting attended by a number of patrons of the school who endorsed the project.

The property concerned is located immediately adjoining the northern boundary of the present school campus and is set to full bearing walnut trees. The two acres which are to be purchased at once are to represent an investment of $5000 per acre and the school has been given a year's option, at a stipulated monthly rental, on the balance of the property at the same price.

Though the additional lands have been purchased with an eye to the future expansion of the school that will eventually necessitate the erection of new classroom buildings, the immediate objective is to better the athletic facilities of the school. Principal Claves said this morning. Workmen are to be set at work at once clearing off most of the trees now located on the property and a new football and athletic field is to be laid out in the new site, Mr. Claves said. This field will be utilized for all big games while the present field will be reserved for the use of the girls' athletic activities and for general practice work.

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 16.—The annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society was held at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. J. M. Ocheltree, who was a missionary among the Indians in Arizona, for several years, had charge of the service.

He spoke on the work of the society, telling what they had accomplished and their plans for the coming year.

In the evening "The Girls Reserve," under the direction of Miss Culter, held its annual recognition service. The girls combined the regular candle lighting service with the Christmas theme.

Mrs. Dan Head, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Head, entertained the Tuesday afternoon club with a one o'clock luncheon at the former's home near Bolsa this week. Covers were placed for sixteen members. During the afternoon Mrs. A. D. Hoensel gave a talk on early Italian painters. Mrs. Nellie Harpster also spoke.

The senior department of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet at the church, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a Christmas party. A Christmas party will be given for the intermediate, junior, primary and beginners' department at the church, December 22, at 2 o'clock.

Next Sunday evening a Christmas musical program will be presented by the choir in the church auditorium.

A community Christmas tree and program will be given at the Alhambra church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Donations of clothing and food, are requested, to be distributed among the Mexican.

Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Chaffee were: Mrs. Herbert Miskin and daughter, Delia and Wilbur Chaffee, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Bell Heim and Mrs. Mae Bateman, of Fullerton.

Shipment of Navels In Orange Starts

ORANGE, Dec. 16.—Navel oranges are being picked and packed in the Santiago Orange Growers' association plant for the Christmas trade, according to R. E. Gross, manager.

Two cars of navels are being shipped each day. It is estimated that the season will last about six weeks.

Approximately 70 cars will comprise the local navel crop, it was stated. As the season advances the packing will be carried on more intensively with from three to five cars being packed each day.

EVENING SALUTATION
For Mercy, Pity, Peace, and Love
Is God, our Father dear;
And Mercy, Pity, Peace and Love
Is man, His child and care.
—William Blake.

HISTORICAL EXHIBIT

We find ourselves very much interested in the Tibbetts collection of relics, and especially in the proposal that a fireproof building be constructed to house it. The Tibbetts collection in itself contains numerous exhibits of great interest, and for itself alone the proposal for the construction of a building is worth considering. The same building could be used for bringing together relics of various kinds. Unless some such gathering place is arranged for, priceless relics will remain scattered, many of them destroyed by persons unaware of their interest.

Jonathan Tibbetts has not decided where his collection will go. The supervisors of at least two counties, San Bernardino and Orange, have been discussing the proposal made by Mr. Tibbetts that the collection be given away by him upon condition that a permanent building be erected to receive it. The San Bernardino board has already come to a conclusion that it will meet the Tibbetts conditions, and a letter to that effect is in Mr. Tibbetts' hands. The Orange county board has taken no action in the matter.

Even though the Tibbetts collection goes elsewhere, the incident brings to our minds the advisability of taking some step toward housing a county historical exhibit. It's time we acted.

MONEY AND ESTEEM

American cities are notoriously lavish in their methods of welcoming celebrities to their midst or paying homage to the good and the brave. But now and then something happens to make citizens wonder whether the right expressions of respect have been chosen and whether the end sought is sufficiently well served to be worth the high cost.

Such thoughtfulness has been forced in New York by the recent refusal of the Comptroller to approve several bills incurred by the city in welcoming heroes and royalty. The bills denied run into thousands of dollars. They include such items as scrolls offering the freedom of the city and costing $935, flowers for wives of the honored ones at $50, auto hire for cars "never used" at $698, gold-plated badges at $112.50, stenographic reports of the immortal words of speakers at $45, flashlight of the mayor at $40, coffee and sandwiches at $335.50, and so on. It may be an unusually long list, but other cities probably have their own pretty good imitations.

Some of the visitors so expensively welcomed are of really great note—for example, Capt. Fried and Chief Officer Miller of the Roosevelt. Certain royal visitors, too, seem to justify a little special expenditure. But when the custom is extended to movie and beauty queens and swimming champions and everybody that has broken into sudden popular approval, it begins to look a little foolish.

And even when honoring such worthy heroes as the brave men from the Roosevelt—just how much respect, esteem and honor can be expressed in a $935 illuminated scroll? Especially when, as is charged, the words of praise are couched in poor English? American standards for such things are a bit confused. We think that money and gilt and buttons and badges can express deep feeling better than bared heads, respectful silence, honest tears and proud and loyal hearts.

A MECHANICAL HEART

Russian doctors have found that life may be continued long after the heart and lungs have stopped working, if the blood is kept circulating by artificial means. One of them has devised a machine which "mechanically takes over the functions of the heart." It is an electrical pump that can be connected with the circulatory system. By means of that pump, a dog which had been "put to death with chloroform" was restored to life.

It looks like an improvement on the pulmotor, which merely takes over the function of the lungs until it revives the vital spark and enables them to resume their normal activity. Many lives may be saved by the new device, in cases of accident or sudden shock, and life may be prolonged in cases of serious heart disease.

No such mechanical contrivance, however, will be a real improvement on the heart. We are not going to have mechanical men or mechanical organs.

Wheels may have certain points of superiority over feet, and the centrifugal pump may seem more efficient than the human heart as a pumping machine. Still, industry has no machine which, day in and day out, year after year, does its work so well as this same delicate and sensitive heart.

With all the imperfections of this elaborate factory of life, the human body, where is the man-made factory that functions so well or lasts so long?

A WISE CANADIAN JESTER

It was taken as a jest, when Charles Millar, a wealthy Toronto citizen with a reputation as a practical joker, left a will bequeathing $1,500,000 to the Toronto mother who, in the 10 years following his death, should have given birth to the greatest number of children. People said it was his last and biggest joke.

Careful inquiry has substantiated the genuineness of the will and the apparently serious intent of the testator, and its terms will be carried out.

Wisely considered, the proceeding is very far from funny. Future generations may regard that gay bachelor sportsman as a far-sighted patriot.

Canada might well follow the example, and offer big prizes in all the provinces for big families. It is population that makes national wealth, particularly in a new country like Canada. More rapid increase of population, if obtainable by the expenditure of millions, would produce billions.

A LONG-LIVED MAGAZINE

The Youth's Companion has reached the good age of 100 years, and readers and other publications join in congratulating it and wishing it another century of achievement.

In these days when new magazines spring up on the slightest provocation—and sometimes die very young—it is something for one to survive as healthily and happily as the Youth's Companion. That magazine has never claimed to be either preacher or teacher, but has held steadily to the worthy task of entertaining well. The kind of entertainment it has provided—for young and old—has been constructive, educative and beneficial as well as good fun.

Good wishes from the whole public go with the Youth's Companion as it passes the century milestone.

What Expositions Cost
San Bernardino Sun

Unless our recollection of the details of financing San Francisco's great exposition of 1915 is completely awry, our neighbor in Fresno, The Bee, ought to brush up on the history of comparatively recent California events. Commenting on the fact that the Sesquicentennial at Philadelphia closed with a deficit of between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, the Bee boasts that "the San Francisco exposition paid for that city's civic auditorium, and declared a profit of over $1,000,000 in addition." Are you sure of that?

It was a great show, and worth all it cost the State of California, but we hesitate to accept the Fresno Journal's account of its financing. On the contrary, with $20,000,000 subscribed and given to it by the State of California, the City of San Francisco and private individuals, the exposition only paid a small dividend by way of return to the individuals who had subscribed for stock, while San Francisco's boasted civic auditorium was built out of these public funds. We do not begrudge it to the city. That was but a few years after the great fire, and if out of these exposition funds the city was able to plan such an auditorium and have it out some small figure in the exposition itself, well and good. But it was paid for out of bond or subscribed money—not out of profits.

As we recall the details, without having confirmed the facts or the figures, the State of California voted a $10,000,000 bond issue to finance the exposition and turned the money over to it. The city of San Francisco voted $5,000,000 more, while private individuals in San Francisco—perhaps some elsewhere, subscribed an additional $5,000,000, the latter represented by stock in the corporation. All that was ever repaid was something over $1,000,000, returned to these individual subscribers, a little more than a 20 per cent dividend. Which may have been more than they were expecting, for they subscribed to aid the exposition, and not as an investment.

All of which seems to mean that the magnificent Panama exposition cost well toward $20,000,000 more than its receipts, leaving out of the account the millions spent by other states and foreign nations and individual exhibitors.

Losses and Havoc Appalling
Pasadena Star-News

Millions of lives sacrificed. Millions of women widowed. Millions of children made orphans. Millions of mothers and fathers bereft of sons. Millions of human beings plunged into inconsolable grief. Millions brought to the depths of sorrow and anguish. Millions of sturdy young men broken in health, tortured by wounds, shattered in body—many broken in mind.

This was the unspeakably ghastly fruit of the World War. This was the superlatively pathetic sacrifice the world made—the appalling cross under which mankind staggered.

But, in addition to the unparalleled slaughter of human beings, the world lost, in dollars and cents—in absolute destruction of tangible property and material assets and values—lost more stupendously than ever before, in a given period, since time began. The frightful total runs into hundreds of billions of dollars. In exports alone, the merchandise trade of the world suffered losses of $210,000,000,000 dollars, according to estimate. This is but one item in a long list of accounts in which losses ran into figures almost inconceivably enormous.

"War is hell." War should be abolished. Mankind should veto the resort to the dread arbitrament of the sword. Reason should rule. Justice should prevail. Good will should govern the hearts of men. National jealousies and hatreds should be wiped out.

These things cannot be accomplished in a day. But the grand procession can be put under way. The grand march of progress toward peace for all time should begin—in truth, it has begun. The world is away beyond where it was in 1913, in advancement toward enduring peace.

MARRY AND KEEP SANITY
The records of the commission in lunacy in the state of New York, covering a population of 9,000,000 persons, bring to light some statistical facts relative to disturbances of the mind.

The tendency to develop such mental disturbances usually shows itself first between 15 and 19 years of age, but becomes much more pronounced between 20 and 24.

From then on, the first appearance of mental disturbances rise steadily until the age of 50, after which there is a decline, and then an extremely rapid rise associated with the mental disturbances of old age.

There are proportionately more men who become insane than women, a somewhat unexpected fact since women are more emotional and excitable than men.

However, men are more likely to develop mental disturbances associated with too much alcohol or with disease.

The disease known as general paresis, or softening of the brain, is a late result of infection.

Married men and women are less likely to become insane than those who are single. The loss of a husband or a wife increases in a marked manner the incidence of insanity. Up to the age of 55, the prevalence of insanity among widows and widowers is almost double that of married men and women.

Among single men and women between the ages of 25 and 55, the prevalence of insanity is nearly three times as great as among a similar number of married men and women.

A well-known physician points out that it is a cliche who said the life of a married man is not really longer than that of a single man, but that it only seems longer.

From the actual statistics, it appears that the married men are better off than bachelors in every sense.

Men between 25 and 55 years of age, remaining bachelors die on an average of four years sooner than married men, and there is three times the risk of becoming insane.

For National Defense Not Militarism
Pasadena Star-News

President Coolidge is for adequate national defense—vigorously for it, as denoted in his message to congress. "No self-respecting nation would neglect to provide an army and navy proportionate to its population, the extent of its territory and the dignity of the place which it occupies in the world."

But—

Mr. Coolidge is anything but militaristic. His words disavowing any trace of militarism, are worthy of quoting and of being held in memory:

"While our policy of national defense will proceed in order that we may be independent and self-sufficient, I am opposed to engaging in any attempt at competitive armaments. No matter how much or how little some other country may feel constrained to provide, we can well afford to set the example, not of being dictated to by others, but by adopting our own standards. We are strong enough to pursue that method, which will be a most wholesome model for the rest of the world. We are eminently peaceful, but we are by no means weak."

This surely puts Mr. Coolidge outside the ranks of those who barstorn for armament greater than the greatest among powers beyond seas.

President Coolidge, in his message, admirably sets forth this nation's policy of defense as being "not one of making war, but of insuring peace." He goes on to say that the land and sea force of America, "both in its domestic and foreign implications, is distinctly a peace force; it is an arm of the police power to guarantee order and the execution of the law at home, and security to our citizens abroad."

These excerpts from the message of Mr. Coolidge fairly interpret his ideas and ideals as to national defense. His policy cannot be condemned as swinging toward militarism. On the other hand, he stands, in principle, for adequate national defense. There are critics who hold that the president's policies of rigid economy are crippling the national armament. But opinions differ as to this. Perhaps the curtailments are not so serious that they could not be made up greatly, should there come a great national emergency, portending war.

A SEA LYRIC
There is no music that man has heard
Like the voice of the minstrel sea,
Whose major and minor chords are fraught
With infinite mystery—
For the sea is a harp, and the winds of God
Play over his rhythmic breast,
And bear on the sweep of their mighty wings
The song of a vast unrest.

There is no passion that man has sung,
Like the love of the deep-souled Sea,
Whose tide responds to the Moon's soft light
With marvelous melody—
For the sea is a harp, and the winds of God
Play over his rhythmic breast,
And bear on the sweep of their mighty wings
The song of a vast unrest.

There is no sorrow that man has known,
Like the grief of the wordless Main,
Whose Titan bosom forever throbs
With an untranslatable pain—
For the sea is a harp, and the winds of God
Play over his rhythmic breast,
And bear on the sweep of their mighty wings
The song of a vague unrest.

SOUND ARGUMENT
Lancaster was a long-winded individual who insisted upon airing his views upon every subject under the sun. Briefly, he was a bore.

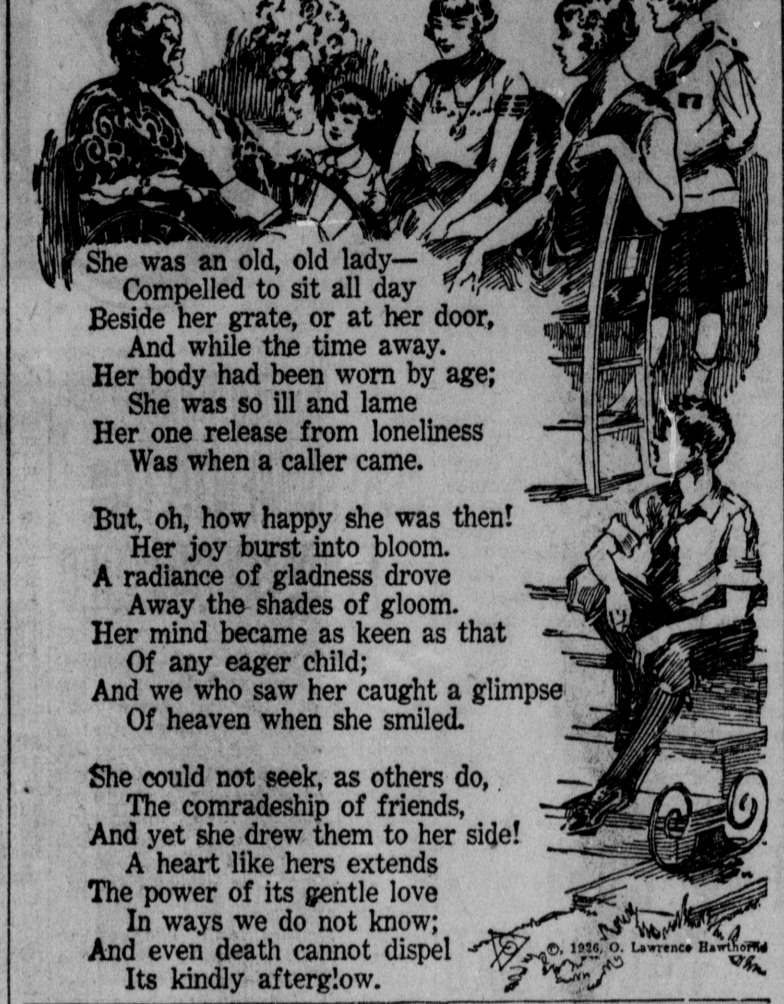

"Well, what do you think of my arguments?" he asked a friend after one particularly tiring tirade.

"Sound—most certainly sound," answered his victim.

"And what else?" asked Lancaster anxiously.

"Nothing else," was the bland reply. "Merely sound all the time!"—Answers, London.

New York Asks Canadians How They Control Crime
New York Times

TORONTO, Ontario, Nov. 9.—The Crime Commission of New York State, of which State Senator Caleb H. Baumes of Newburgh is chairman, began here today a three-day study of the operation of Canadian criminal justice and crime control in general, with a view further to remedying New York's admittedly antiquated and ineffective criminal code.

From eminent jurists, a crown attorney and the chief of police of Toronto the commission heard that the dominion's success with its punitive measures was due to the speed of trials, the confidence of all concerned in the fairness of the trial, the incorruptibility of judges, the fact that neither fear nor favor had been shown, the swiftness and virtual certainty of punishment for the guilty and the faith of the public that justice will be done.

Justice W. R. Riddell of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court astonished the members of the commission when he said that, although he was one of Canada's oldest practitioners, he had never known it to require more than 30 minutes to get a jury in any civil or criminal case. He asserted that he had never heard a prospective juror challenged for cause.

It was not unusual, according to Justice Riddell, for men accused of serious crimes to be indicted one day, placed on trial the next and convicted, at the outside within two days.

"The crown counselor is there to bring out the facts for as well as against the defendant. He never urges a conviction. Should he press unduly for that he would call down a severe rebuke from the presiding judge. Winning his case will not gain him one dollar or make him more important in the community. A trial is not a game, but a solemn serious investigation to ascertain whether a crime has been committed against the state."

"Two-thirds of our criminal cases never go before a jury. The prisoner is given his choice of being tried by a county judge or by a jury. Most often he elects to be tried by the judge alone. Nor do we have a division between misdemeanors and felonies. What's the sense of it?"

In Canada, according to Justice Riddell, if a person steals less than $10 he is summarily convicted before a magistrate, that being the nearest approach to the division in the United States between a misdemeanor and a felony. He declared there had been no appreciable increase in crime in Canada. When asked what he thought of the Canadian laws covering certain offenses, he said:

"A man who acts as a brute might well be treated as a brute." It was pointed out that crimes for which a man can be whipped in Canada include wife beating, a statutory offense against a girl under 14, and assault on the King. Asked by a member of the commission, all of whom interrogated the speakers from time to time, how Canada made criminal justice so effective, Justice W. E. Middleton, also of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, replied:

"We have no such thing here as bail by a corporation. If a person goes bail for another he may jeopardize not only his chattels but his body, as he may be sent to jail in the other's stead should the defendant elect to jump his bail. There have been few cases, however, in which bail has been jumped."

"In 999 out of 1000 cases no bail is granted in murder cases. We are not fond of bail in such serious cases."

The selection of a jury gives us no trouble, although I would like to see an elevation of the type of men we are able to get for jury duty—there is an undue preponderance of the none-too-intelligent. Criminal appeals here are immediately heard and disposed of, and there are not many of them. During appeal of his case the defendant is in jail and the time spent before the appeal is acted upon is not taken off his sentence if he loses.

"Our grand juries are told to hand in an indictment quickly and not keep the petit jury waiting. The result is the true bill is soon in and the defendant is tried the following day."

Supreme Court Justice Hugh Kelly, who said the day marked his fifteenth year on the bench, explained that Canada had no degrees in murder other than murder and manslaughter. Justice Kelly also disapproved the practices of a "sympathetic" parole board, saying that the Judge in the case was best fitted to know what the punishment should be.

Edward Bayly, K. C., deputy attorney-general, said that errors on the record did not necessarily cause a new trial in Canada unless there had been a substantial miscarriage of justice. S. J. Dickson, Chief of Police of Toronto, also addressed the commission briefly.

The New York commissioners said they were deeply impressed by what they had heard of Canadian justice.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

R. H. BALLARD, EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER OF THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY, WHICH SERVES THE MOST INTENSELY ELECTRIFIED REGIONS IN THE WORLD, AND HAS OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND STOCKHOLDERS AMONG ITS CONSUMERS, SAYS:

THAT customer-partnership in the electric public utilities of the United States is one of the most important economic movements of this electrical era.

THAT it is the most direct way in which the saving of the people's money automatically and speedily to increase the prosperity, wealth and personal comfort of the people themselves.

THAT the money which the thrifty savers of America are investing in the electric and other public utilities which serve them, is developing manufacture and commerce, multiplying payrolls and increasing agricultural production to a far greater extent than any other human activity of this period.

THAT employee participation through ownership by employees of the securities of the utility which employs them is making partners out of the men and women engaged in the public utility service and by co-operative financial interests, has greatly advanced the efficiency of corporate public service.

CONSUMER PARTNERSHIP AND EMPLOYEE PARTNERSHIP IN THE PUBLIC UTILITIES OF OUR NATION IS RESULTING IN A MORE EVEN DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH THAN OBTAINS IN ANOTHER COUNTRY AND IS CONSEQUENTLY REFLECTING A BETTER CITIZENSHIP BECAUSE EACH YEAR IT IS ADDING ENORMOUSLY TO THOSE WHO HAVE A DIRECT PERSONAL INTEREST IN THE PROGRESS OF CIVILIZATION FOUNDED UPON SOUND AND CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT.

My sister Gladdis was up in her room reading and eating chocolate in her red bathrobe, and I stuck my head in, saying, "Wats you doing, Gladdis, reading?"

Yes, and I'm comfortable for the first time today, and if you disappear as suddenly as you arrived I'll remain so, Gladdis sed. Meeting comfortable and she ate the 2nd half of a chocolate, me saying, "Wat kind are they, Gladdis, give me one, will you?"

I will not, you've bin a pritty fresh kid for the last couple of days, Gladdis sed.

You dont think Id take one if you did give it to me, do you? I sed. And on my way downstairs the telephone rang and I answered it and it was Mr. Perkins to talk to Gladdis and I went up agen, saying, "Hay Gladdis, Mr. Perkins is downstairs."

Not saying on the telephone, and Gladdis sed, My stars, wats he mean by coming so unexpectedly, if theres one thing I dont feel like doing its getting dressed, my stars, tell him Ill be down in a few minits.

Which I went down to the telephone and did, and then I got in the living room closet to get wats elts happened and in about 10 minits Gladdis came down, ma hearing her saying, My goodness, it took you long enuff to come down, that man must have the unadulterated patience of a saint if he's still hanging on to that telephone.

The telephone, you dont mean to say I got painfully all dressed to talk on the telephone? Gladdis sed. And she quick started to tawk on it, taking her about 10 minits to explain who she was so long and about 20 more minits to tawk about other things, being about twice as long as necessary on account of her repeating most of them, wich by that time the closet started to get pritty monotonous, the worst part of it being that wen Gladdis started to look for me the closet was the first place she looked.
